Walk the Talk: An Interfaith Response to Polluted Runoff

Polluted runoff is the only source of pollution in the Chesapeake Bay Watershed that is still increasing.
As people of faith, we are called to respond.
God makes the rain, but We make the runoff.

Sunday, March 30, 2014
2:00-4:00 pm
St. Matthew Catholic Church
5401 Loch Raven Blvd., Baltimore, MD 21239

Parking in Lot in front of Cardinal Shehan School Questions? Email bonnie@interfaithchesapeake.org
Register for this FREE forum at: http://www.interfaithchesapeake.org/walk_the_talk_baltimore

Come learn about Polluted Runoff and what faith communities in Baltimore are doing about it.
Listen to testimonies from the faith community about their commitment to Creation.
Meet Baltimore City representatives and get answers to your questions about the fees.
Get resources on how to take action to help heal the Bay.

All religious denominations are welcome and encouraged to participate in the discussion

Speakers, Resources, Idea-Sharing, Dialogue

Tour St. Matthew Church's Rain Garden and see Stormwater Practices Up Close!

Interfaith Partners for the CHESAPEAKE

BLUE WATER BALTIMORE
Clean Water. Strong Communities.

NATIONAL FISH AND WILDLIFE FOUNDATION NFWF