WORLD REGON

CONCORDIA UNIVERSITY
PORTLAND • OREGON

GLOBAL CLASSROOM

Educator's Forum:
Expanding Culturally Relevant Teaching at Your School!

Moving from theory to practice, transforming challenges into opportunities

Date: Saturday, February 29th, 2020

Time: 9:00 am - 3:30 pm

Fee: $50 lunch included
$35 lunch not included
$25 full-time student, lunch included

Location: Concordia University
Hagan Campus Center
2811 NE Holman Street
Portland, OR 97211

Professional Development Units: 6

Program:

We look forward to showcasing administrators, teachers, and students from five different school districts to discuss Culturally Relevant Teaching, share what's happening on the ground and dig into the complexity of the work. Workshops will address the following Culturally Relevant Teaching practices:

1. Know Yourself
2. Know Your Students
3. Capitalize On Student Expertise
4. Make Language Count

Highlights:

- Fishbowl with 5+ school districts addressing CRT challenges & opportunities
- Lunch & presentation about the connection between CRT and the arts
- Join a growing network of like minded educators from across the Portland metro area
- Access new resources to use in your school

Who should attend and why:

- Educators who are interested in leveraging CRT practices in their schools
- Bring new ideas, materials, and strategies back to your school
- Learn what other districts are doing and how they're problem solving

Registration Link:
www.worldoregon.org/educators_forum_2020

Questions? Contact Samara Chism-Winfield, Program Manager, Global Classroom
samara@worldoregon.org | (503) 306-5296