Bill Peduto

Management Experience

As Auditor General of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Jack Wagner managed 700 employees and an annual budget of $50,000,000.

Has a small staff of only a few employees.

Leadership Experience

City Council President
State Senate Caucus Chair
State Auditor General
Safety Engineer
Decorated Marine Veteran
Graduate of Indiana University of Pennsylvania

Twelve years on city council and never selected for a leadership position.

Policy Experience

Took on the gun lobby to pass Pittsburgh's assault weapons ban, and fought the Wall Street banks to stop risky financial schemes.

Opposed redevelopment in Homewood and the Hill District, and blocked housing for low income seniors.⁽¹⁾
Opposed the PNC Financial Services Tower Downtown development project.⁽²⁾

Financial Management Experience

As Auditor General, Jack Wagner brought integrity to government by completing over 25,000 audits of Pennsylvania's finances, monitoring performance of agencies, and exposing waste, fraud, and abuse.

Proposed a 6% property tax increase.⁽³⁾
Supported the state takeover of Pittsburgh's finance and wanted the city to file for bankruptcy.⁽⁴⁾

Experience Working with Colleagues

City Council President Darlene Harris says: "Throughout his distinguished, extensive career, Jack has always listened and worked with others, even when they disagreed."
City Council Finance Chair Ricky Burgess says: "The only candidate who can assure that all communities participate fully in Pittsburgh's prosperity."

City Council President Darlene Harris says: "Doesn't work well with others" and "holds petty grudges."⁽⁵⁾

City Council Finance Chair Ricky Burgess says: "We haven't talked in two years."⁽⁶⁾
