Hosted by the Duke Center for Reconciliation, the Summer Institute draws on the vibrant spiritual and intellectual resources of Duke Divinity School, including a world-class faculty of theologians and ministry practitioners. Grounded in a distinctively Christian vision and framework of reconciliation, the Summer Institute offers in-depth teaching, prayer and worship, which are richly practical, contextual and theological. The Summer Institute emerges from the Duke Center for Reconciliation’s mission to form and strengthen Christian leaders in the ministry of reconciliation.

Seminar Topics

Transforming Academic Institutions for Reconciliation
MICHELLE LOYD-PAIGE AND CHRISTENA CLEVELAND

Faith and Trauma: How Christian Communities Can Participate in Healing Responses to Suffering, Trauma, and Violence
SHELLY RAMBO

Christian-Muslim Peacemaking for Christian Leaders
RICK LOVE AND NAJEEBA SYED-MILLER

Holistic Global Mission: Sowing Seeds of Reconciliation Across Walls
RUTH PADILLA DEBORST

Keeping the Faith in Faith-Based Organizations
LUKE BREHTERON

Cultivating Flourishing Congregations in the Face of Divisions and Difference
LAURA SUMNER TRUAX AND THURMAN WILLIAMS

Theology of Reconciliation
EDGARDO COLÓN-EMERIC

Building Beloved Communities of Justice and Advocacy with the Poor
MARY NELSON

Forming Christian Leaders Through Word Made Flesh Methodology
CHRISS RICE

Program Details

Dates: June 2 - 7, 2014
Cost: $500 (includes meals)
Application deadline: May 1, 2014
Registration and more information at www.dukesummerinstitute.org

A community of worship, learning, friendship, and reflection for leaders in the ministry of Christian reconciliation, justice, and peacebuilding