Be a Global Mission Church

A workbook for the Disciples and UCC to engage in God’s transforming mission through Global Ministries.

www.globalministries.org
Will you accept the challenge?

Global Ministries would like to accompany you on this journey as you reach out beyond our national boundaries to engage in God’s transforming mission with our international partners.

The United Church of Christ and the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) have passed resolutions at Disciples General Assembly and UCC General Synod affirming our two denominations’ commitment to Be a Global Mission Church.

This workbook is a tool to help all settings/expressions of our two churches faithfully live out that commitment to God’s global mission with the accompaniment of Global Ministries.

We look forward to walking with you on this journey of faith as we claim our identity as a Global Mission Church. Together we are meeting God’s people and creation at the point of deepest need as we accompany our global partners in their life-giving ministries.

Grateful for your partnership in God’s global mission!

An important note for Disciples’ areas/regions and UCC associations/conferences:

We are excited that you have decided to undertake the Be a Global Mission Church process. With your intentional support, the local churches/congregations of your area/region or association/conference will be able to deepen their global mission involvement. We have designed this workbook for local churches/congregations, but the five steps can easily be adapted to UCC conferences and associations and Disciples’ regions and areas. We look forward to walking with you on your journey to Be a Global Mission Region or Conference!
Gather…

a team to coordinate the Be a Global Mission Church process.

As you begin the Be a Global Mission Church journey, consider these leadership questions:

1. Is our church leadership (pastor, elders, staff, etc.) supportive of this process? Have they given us their blessing to move forward?

2. Is there an existing committee? Is it working well? Do we need a change of personnel, name, time, budget, etc.?

3. Who will spearhead our new effort to grow in global mission involvement and commitment? Do we have any former missionaries in our church?

4. Is there anyone in our church or geographic area who has been trained as a Ministries and Mission Interpreter (MMI) for Global Ministries? Might we invite that person to be a part of our leadership team?

5. Are there any new people with a passion for global mission in our church? Enthusiasm and energy are more important than expertise. People can learn about global mission as they go!

6. How can we involve youth and a diverse cross section of our church from the beginning?

7. How can we avoid having our mission program identified with just a few people? What are strategies that we can implement to help the entire church feel responsible for this new initiative?

8. Who in our church is effective in spreading the word through newsletter articles, bulletin boards, bulletin inserts, e-mail updates, website postings, and mission moments?

As the team that will lead this process comes together, consider how you might affirm the importance of this work during Sunday morning worship through a prayer or a simple commissioning service.

With a leadership team in place, you are ready to move on to STEP 2!
As you gather your Be a Global Mission Church leadership team for your first meeting, take some time to talk over the foundational principles which guide our global mission efforts as the UCC and Disciples through Global Ministries. You may enjoy learning more about our two denominations’ participation in God’s global mission by looking at the Global Ministries web site, www.globalministries.org. Here are some frequently asked questions and answers for discussion:

What is a global mission church?

A working definition to consider is: A global mission church understands itself to be inter-related with the whole of God’s creation across all physical and human-made barriers, and seeks to timely and appropriately meet God’s people and creation at the point of deepest need.

What is global mission?

Carlos Cardoza-Orlandi provides a very helpful starting point in defining mission. In his book, Mission: An Essential Guide, he offers the following definition: “Mission is the participation of the people of God in God’s action in the world.” Global Ministries is responsible for helping the UCC and Disciples engage in God’s mission beyond our national boundaries as we walk with our international partners and discern together God’s action in the world.

What is Global Ministries?

Global Ministries is the common witness of the Disciples’ Division of Overseas Ministries (DOM) and the UCC’s Wider Church Ministries (WCM). Our two denominations have a formal partnership through which the Disciples and UCC share common staff, budget, programs/projects, and governance in our presence and witness with international partners throughout the global community.

How was Global Ministries started?

Beginning in the 1960’s there were discussions about “joint action and of a possible administrative merger of the agencies.” These discussions led to experiments with joint offices and “common ministry” over the next several decades. In 1989, the General Synod of the UCC and the General Assembly of the Disciples each voted on a partnership resolution “to engage in mission together, wherever and whenever possible.” On January 1, 1996, Global Ministries was born.

Why is Global Ministries unique?

No two denominations in the U.S. have entered into covenantal partnership to do global mission together through a common structure as the Disciples and UCC have done through Global Ministries.
What are the Guiding Principles of Global Ministries?

There are five Guiding Principles which emerge from a fundamental mission commitment to a shared life in Christ, and to an ecumenical global sharing of resources and prophetic vision of a just, sustainable, and peaceful world order, joining with God’s concern for the poor and oppressed:

1. Within covenantal bonds with other partner churches and ecumenical bodies throughout the world, we commit ourselves in Christ to share life, resources and needs.

2. As part of the ecumenical church and in response to particular historical and geographical contexts, we affirm our commitment to share persons in mission.

3. We commit ourselves to discovering and sharing exciting new ways to sing the song of faith...hearing, telling and participating in the story of God’s love in Jesus Christ.

4. Relying upon God’s grace, we commit ourselves to share in God’s healing of God’s continuing creation.

5. Recognizing the freedom of God’s spirit to act in diverse ways, we commit ourselves to engage in dialogue, witness and common cause with people of other faiths and movements with whom we share a vision of peace, justice and the integrity of creation.

What model of mission does Global Ministries implement?

Global Ministries is committed to implementing a partnership model of mission. We walk with global partners as equals realizing that global mission is reciprocal in nature. Our global partners have quality leadership with vision and plans for carrying out God’s mission in their part of the world. We accompany them on their journey and respond to their requests as we are able.

Who are our international partners?

Autonomous churches historically related to the Disciples and UCC, as well as a variety of other denominations, ecumenical organizations, councils of churches, indigenous churches, educational and healthcare institutions, and sustainable development and human rights organizations join us in partnership.

How many partners does Global Ministries have?

There are over 270 partner churches and organizations in about 70 countries around the world.

What is Global Ministries’ current mission priority?

Relying on the leading of God’s Spirit and responding in faith to the challenge of a rapidly changing world, Global Ministries adopted a strategic approach in April 2004, emphasizing Critical Presence in all phases of its mission. We understand Critical Presence “to be timely and appropriately meeting God’s people and creation at the point of deepest need: spiritually, physically, emotionally and/or economically.” In this approach to global mission, priority is given to ministries of acompañamiento (various forms and modes of presence) with people in critical situations, which may include:

- pastoral ministries related to fear and hopelessness where people are desperate for meaning;
- dangerous or life-threatening situations related to social, economic, or political realities;
- partners living in countries wherein the Christian faith is a minority faith;
- interfaith relations;
- conflict transformation and resolution; and
- areas where Global Ministries can offer a distinctive presence.
When does Global Ministries send missionaries?
A missionary is sent when international partners request a missionary for a specific need that meets the Critical Presence criteria, finances are available for the appointment, and a qualified candidate is found.

What is the primary focus of missionary appointments?
Under the Critical Presence priority, Global Ministries seeks to appoint mission personnel in places where capacity-building (leadership and community development leading to self-sufficiency) and healthcare are a primary focus. Each missionary appointment has a Critical Presence rationale developed in dialogue with the global partner being served.

How many missionaries does Global Ministries send?
In addition to the 80 or so Disciples and UCC People-to-People pilgrimage group mission trips each year, there are about 120 persons in mission at any given time serving on behalf of the Disciples and UCC in close to 40 countries in the following categories:
• Approximately 50 fully supported missionaries (3-4 year terms with possibility of renewal; some are funded through One Great Hour of Sharing);
• About 3 global mission interns (young adults out of college funded through Week of Compassion);
• 10 or more long-term volunteers (terms of one year or longer);
• 20 or more short-term volunteers (for terms of 3 weeks to one year); and
• 50 overseas associates (Disciples and UCC persons in mission appointed and paid by international partners).
Global Ministries also receives persons in mission through a “Missionary in Residence” program where young people from our global partners serve in UCC and Disciples camps during the summer. A “Missionaries to the U.S. and Canada” program also exists to help conferences/regions welcome a member of a partner church in their area for a specific time of service or itineration.

How is Global Ministries governed?
The Common Global Ministries Board (CGMB) is composed of six international partners, one from each of the six areas of the world in which we are engaged in mission, 20 Division of Overseas Ministries (Disciples) board members and 20 Wider Church Ministries (UCC) board members.

Where does Global Ministries have home-based staff?
Approximately half of the staff is based in Cleveland at the UCC Church House and the other half is in Indianapolis at the Disciples Center. The staff is led by two co-executives, one in Indianapolis and one in Cleveland. (See the staff listing at the end of this booklet for more details.)

How is the work with international partners carried out?
Five area offices (Africa, East Asia and Pacific, Latin America and Caribbean, Middle East and Europe, and Southern Asia) are staffed by area executives. They work with the program offices: Mission Personnel, People-to-People Pilgrimages, Missionary Relationships, Resource/Financial Development, Mission Education and Advocacy, Finance, and Child Sponsorship.

How is Global Ministries funded?
A percentage of the Disciples Mission Fund (DMF) and the Easter offering from Disciples and Our Church’s Wider Mission (OCWM) from the UCC, and money through Week of Compassion (WOC) and One Great Hour of Sharing (OGHS) supports Global Ministries. Funds are also received from various endowments and special gifts provided by individuals, local churches/congregations and judicatories.

Why is it important to Be a Global Mission Church?
The Church exists by and for God’s mission in the world. In the summer of 2009, both the Disciples and UCC passed resolutions at their General Assembly and General Synod concerning denominational commitment to Be a Global Mission Church. The General Assembly resolution invites Disciples to “claim the church’s core identity as a global mission church in all of its expressions, and calls on the church to live out this commitment in all current and future mission priorities.” The General Synod resolution underscores the importance of the initiative, asking all settings of the UCC to pursue the Global Mission Church designation.

Now that you have learned about our common global mission you are ready to begin the evaluation process offered in STEP 3!

Most churches/congregations are already involved in global mission. As you continue on the Be a Global Mission Church journey, take the time to celebrate your past achievements and then evaluate the effectiveness of those actions. Use the following questions to review the current global mission involvement and commitment of your church:

1. How are individual members active in global outreach and advocacy? Can we name the people who have a “passion” for global mission in our church? How involved in mission are our youth, men’s and women’s groups?

2. How is our church involved globally with people, projects, and programs?

3. How do we financially support the global mission efforts of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) and the United Church of Christ? What is our support of the Disciples Mission Fund/Our Church’s Wider Mission? Are we moving toward a tithe? Are we supporting Week of Compassion/One Great Hour of Sharing? What about the Special Day Offerings? Do we encourage our church members to donate to denominational special appeals issued after natural disasters? What other overseas financial commitments do we have?
4. In what ways are we active in our region’s/conference’s missionary relationship? Global church partnership?

5. How do we use the printed, audio-visual and web-based resources of Global Ministries?

6. How often does our worship include elements of our global relationships?

7. When was the last time we had a global theme for a lunch or dinner program? Bible study? Vacation Bible School? youth group? another event?

8. How often, and well, do our Mission and Advocacy Committee(s) present issues and concerns to engage the church?

9. Which Global Ministries special projects do we support (through funding, education, and advocacy), such as child sponsorship, disaster response, refugee resettlement?

10. What other international or ecumenical efforts do we support financially, materially, or with time and energy? Church World Service (CWS), National Council of Churches (NCC), World Council of Churches (WCC), Habitat for Humanity? Heifer Project? Others?

11. Where and when is God’s global mission visible in our church building?

12. What understanding of global mission do our children have? Have they met and spoken with a missionary or a person from another country, such as a mission partner?

13. What nationalities are present in our local church/congregation? What natural global relationships do we already have?

14. Have members been on a mission trip or visited Global Ministries’ partners or missionaries in their travels? Have they shared what they have learned with our local church/congregation?

15. When has our church resettled refugees or reached out to international students?

16. How do our members live out the inter-connectedness of local and global justice issues and relationships?

17. How have we, as a Disciples congregation, for example, ever sponsored a global mission event with a UCC church (or vice versa) in order to make the “common witness” of Global Ministries more visible?

18. In what other ways is our church global?

Global Mission Evaluative Summary Questions:

1. What did we learn from this evaluation about our church’s global mission involvement?

2. What are the strengths and weaknesses of our global mission efforts?

3. What do we want to conclude and celebrate before moving on?

4. What do we want to continue and strengthen in our next action plan?

5. What new areas do we want to consider in this next phase of our global mission involvement?

Now that you have evaluated your current global mission involvement, move to STEP 4 to create a new action plan!
It’s time to invent your church’s future! We invite you to create an action plan of global mission involvement based upon your evaluation and tailored to your church’s interests. We have provided an action plan checklist of global mission engagement ideas which are organized as the seven marks of a global mission church. As you read through the checklist:

- Begin by selecting what your church has already been committed to doing in global mission which you want to continue. Under each mark of a global mission church you may include ideas which are not explicitly listed. Be creative!

- Choose a few new ideas that seem to be realistic for your church. Remember it’s all about responding to God’s call and taking the next step(s). Try to spread your ideas for action over the seven marks of a global mission church. Be ambitious!

- Establish measurable objectives for the implementation of each idea, including target dates and names of the people who will be responsible for carrying out the objectives. Plan an annual evaluation of your progress. Be committed!

Expect to implement these ideas for action over three years. At the end of that three-year period, evaluate and then plan to begin another cycle.

- for the lives of those who have gone before us dedicating their time, talent and gifts in sharing Your love with others.

God, we ask You to...

- continue to show us where You are calling us now, as individuals and as a church, to make a commitment to grow;
- help us as a church to hear the cries of lament and praise of people around the world;
- grant us energy and enthusiasm to reach out our hands, to receive and respond with grace;
- use our voices to proclaim the joys, as well as to denounce the suffering of Your people;
- grant us wisdom and guidance as we build global connections in the life of our church, ensuring that this may contribute to the building of Your realm; and
- bless the work of Global Ministries; in Jesus’ name. Amen.

Wherever your church fits, this workbook can be a new direction or a milepost on the path already being traveled.

The Be Global Mission Church process can be used to propel a church into new activities or to affirm numerous projects already in place. Whether your next step is to find a world map, study globalization or plan a People-to-People Pilgrimage, we encourage you to make the decision to put a foot forward and take a step further into God’s global mission. Being a Global Mission Church will challenge your members to stretch toward a new level of interest in, and commitment to, God’s world.
