Refounding Labour - have your say

As part of Peter Hain's review of Labour Party structures, we want to ensure that the voice of women members is included as we refound our party. All members are able to make submissions on a range of issues, and you can find out more here. However we wanted to make sure that women members have a dedicated opportunity to feed in ideas about our women's structures and representation at every level.

Currently each CLP should have a Women's Officer who can set up a Women's Forum which exists to promote the involvement of women members in every aspect of the CLP's work. Is this the best way to increase participation? Are you part of a really great Women's Forum in your area? Can you share best practice or ideas for how local parties can build bigger and better forums for women members? We are asking for your ideas.

Come to a meeting with women across the party to discuss these questions

Friday 3 June from 5pm in Central London (venue information to follow once you have registered). Please note there is no charge for this event. To attend you must register to attend by emailing equalities@new.labour.org.uk. Please add 'event registration' in the subject line.

Join us for a phone conference to share ideas and best practice

Thursday 2 June from 6 - 7pm. Call in for the chance to share best practice and your ideas for moving forward. To attend, please register at:

<https://cossprereg.btci.com/prereg/key.process?key=PARFLKTEP>

Once you have registered, you will be provided with the information you need to join the conference, including dial-in numbers and passcodes.

You can also email in any ideas or suggestions you have

Please email equalities@new.labour.org.uk with any best practice or ideas you would like to have considered if you can't make the phone conference or the meeting. Please email them in before Wednesday 1 June.

Harriet Harman's open letter to Ken Clarke over his comments on rape

Harriet Harman MP, Labour's Deputy Leader and Shadow Secretary of State for International Development, today wrote an open letter to Ken Clarke following his recent comments over rape sentencing. You can read the full content of the letter here

Sadiq Khan MP, Shadow Justice Secretary, also responded to Ken Clarke's comments. Read the press release here

Labour Party Annual Conference

Last year's Women's Summit was the highlight of Conference for many women. This year we are going one step further and starting Annual Conference with a two day Women's Conference taking place Saturday 24 - Sunday 25 September. This event will be open to delegates attending Annual Conference, as well as visitors who only wish to attend the women's conference. Details about how to register will be released shortly, but in the meantime we want to hear your ideas about what should be included in the programme. Send your ideas and suggestions for speakers, sessions, training and workshops that you would like to see included to equalities@new.labour.org.uk and help be part of a really great event.

Women's Resource Centre - log on NOW!

Are you a Women's Officer? The role of CLP Women's Officer is an important one. A wealth of resources to support you with your work locally is available on Membersnet. Here, the Women's Resource Centre is your 'one-stop' shop, providing you with all the information you will need to be a successful women's officer.

Labour Women's Resources can be accessed by logging on to labour.org.uk/membersnet. If you are not yet registered to use Membersnet, you will need your Labour Party membership number. Once in the secure area, under the Campaigns tab, you will find the Labour Women Resources section.

If there are any extra resources you would like to see, either on Membersnet, or provided to you in your role, please let us know by emailing equalities@new.labour.org.uk. Thank you for carrying out such a vital role for the party.
