On October 20th put local jobs first
VOTE ACT LABOR

If you vote for any other minor party or independents before you vote for ACT Labor you risk a Liberal Government cutting local jobs and services.

More hospital beds, more nurses and better facilities

Katy Gallagher and ACT Labor are providing services closer to where people live so that you have better access to health care where and when you need it and building new hospitals like the Canberra Centenary Hospital for Women and Children.

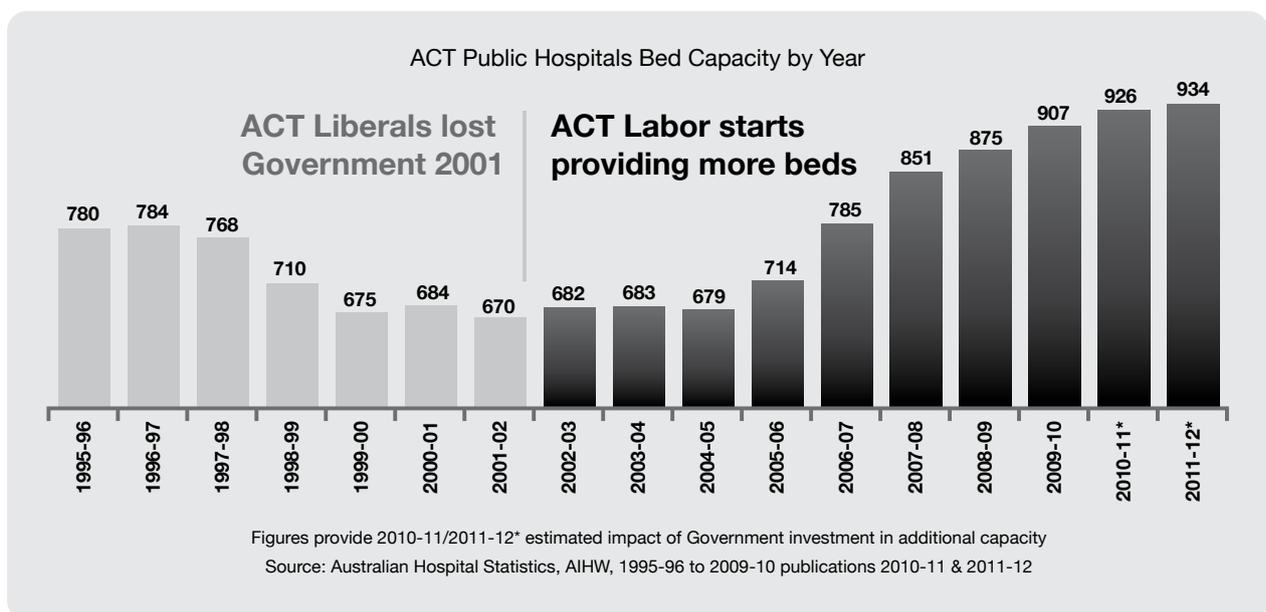

Only ACT Labor will deliver:

- The new University of Canberra Public Hospital
- Two new nurse-led Walk-in Centres in Tuggeranong and Belconnen
- A new Birth Centre for women in Canberra's north
- A mobile dental clinic to provide dental care for the aged, special schools and young parents

Right now we're investing over $1 billion to build better hospitals and more health services in Canberra's north and south to make our health system even stronger.

More hospital beds

- Under ACT Labor the number of public hospital beds has grown from 670 beds to 934 beds (in 2011-12) with a further 40 beds planned for 2012-13
- The Liberals ripped 114 beds out of our local system, ACT Labor added more than 260 beds

More nurses, doctors and health professionals

Since 2001 the ACT public hospital workforce has increased by 58%, growing from 2,873 public hospital staff to 4,534 staff in 2011.

- The number of salaried medical staff has grown from 290 in 2001 to 671 in 2011, a 131% increase
- The number of nursing staff increased from 1,271 in 2001 to 2,140 in 2011, a 68% increase

The Canberra health system is one of the best in the world

- Canberra is one of the healthiest communities in Australia and the world. We have the highest average life expectancy at birth in Australia for both males and females (80.5 and 84.7 years respectively)
- 100% of category one (most urgent) patients are seen on arrival at Emergency Departments. If you are critically ill, you will be seen immediately
- Patient satisfaction data from the Report on Government Services 2012 shows the proportion of people who went to an Emergency Department in the last 12 months reporting "the doctors or specialist always or often listened carefully to them"—ACT was the best in the country at 89.6%. Well above the national average of 83.7%.
