DOCUMENT RETENTION

Document Destruction Prohibited

No officer, director, employee or agent of the Association shall knowingly destroy a document with the intent to obstruct or influence the investigation or proper administration of any matter within the jurisdiction of any government department or agency or in relation to or contemplation of any such matter or case. (summer 2010)

WHISTLEBLOWER POLICY

Retaliation Against Whistleblowers Prohibited

No officer, director, employee or agent of the Association shall take any harmful action with the intent to retaliate against any person, including interference with employment or livelihood, for providing to a law enforcement officer any truthful information relating to the commission or possible commission of any offense. (summer 2010)

CONFLICT OF INTEREST

(summer 2010)

MAEA directors, officers, committee members, staff, and other volunteers, while acting on behalf of MAEA, should avoid conflicts of interest. Even the appearance of a conflict of interest should be avoided. All actions should be based solely on the best interests of MAEA, in accordance with applicable state and federal laws and regulations. Actions should not be influenced by personal considerations.

A conflict of interest occurs whenever an individual has a direct or indirect interest, financial or otherwise, in the outcome of any transaction or matter involving MAEA. A conflict of interest also occurs whenever an individual has a relationship with other parties to the transaction or matter in an undisclosed or adverse manner to MAEA.

Depending upon the immediacy and seriousness of the conflict, a number of resolutions are possible. If the conflict is minimal, it may be cured through nothing more than disclosure of the interest and a pledge to remain objective and neutral to it. Other conflicts are more serious and may require the board or committee member to remove themselves from any involvement in the association's discussions or decision making on the matter. (This is called recusal.) In rare cases, conflicts are so immediate and serious that resignation from the board, committee, or other association assignment is the only prudent means of avoiding the conflict.

It is the prerogative of the board, not the individual, to determine how severe a conflict is and the appropriate steps that must be taken to remedy it.

Interests do not often, per se, create actual conflicts. Individuals often have fully legitimate responsibilities to more than one board or organization. It is generally only when some specific issue arises in which both organizations have a direct interest that an actual conflict exists. It is important to stress that the existence of a conflict of interest and the actions taken to resolve that conflict are not punitive or a negative reflection on the affected board or committee member's ethics, commitment to MAEA, or judgment.

If an individual has a conflict of interest or potential conflict of interest in connection with any MAEA transaction or matter, he or she should immediately notify the President, Executive Director, or other appropriate MAEA representative. A sample disclosure statement is available on website.

REMOVING AN ELECTED COUNCIL MEMBER

Occasionally, an elected council member needs to be removed from the council. A conflict of interest, unethical behavior, or failure to fulfill duties as outlined in the bylaws may be grounds to remove an individual from the council.

Strongly felt disagreements, passionate arguments, and genuine debates are often elements of the most effective councils. Arguing for an unpopular viewpoint is not grounds for council dismissal. However, if an elected council member consistently disrupts meetings or prevents the organization from functioning well, removal may be appropriate.

Personal Intervention

Intervention by the council president or other executive council members is the first step in managing problem council members. If an elected council member has become an impediment to the council's work, an executive council member will contact the council member in question to seek a resolution.

If the conflict is not resolved in a timely manner as determined by the executive council, then the president or executive council may request a resignation. Documentation should include written notification to the executive council with a plan of action.

Impeachment

If personal intervention is not successful, the elected council member can be removed by a two-thirds vote of the elected council members. If a council member is impeached, the council member will be notified via registered mail. All MAEA materials must be returned by the impeached member in a timely manner as determined by the executive council.

(summer 2011)

GRIEVANCE APPEAL PROCESS

This provides MAEA members a process to follow in case of a grievance or complaint that did not receive a satisfactory resolution.

Action One: Letter Stating Nature of Grievance

The person with the grievance should address a formal letter to the current MAEA president. This letter must state:

Contact Information: Name, address, Phone numbers, and e-mail address if applicable

Date of occurrence

Description of what occurred

Name of MAEA member to which the original complaint was first reported

Ideal outcome for resolution

Action Two: MAEA President and Executive Board

Formal appeal will be addressed by the MAEA Executive Board as facilitated by the president. Decisions of the Executive Board will be final.

Action Three: Timeline

Within two weeks of receiving a formal letter, the MAEA president will send a reply.
