

BIG BOYS GONE BANANAS!*

Caption list

Filename:	Caption:
BBB_01	BIG BOYS GONE BANANAS!*. Photo: Anna Sivertsson
BBB_02	CTV Morning Show July 9, 2009. Photo: CTV
BBB_03	Bart Simpson and Fredrik Gertten arriving to the gala opening of the Los Angeles Film Festival 2009. Photo: Jason Wawro
BBB_04	The final version of the disclaimer defending Dole's view of the film, presented to us just before the world premiere of BANANAS!* at the Los Angeles Film Festival 2009. (From left) Bart Simpson, Canadian co-producer, David Magdael publicist, Peter Jäger sales agent, Winston Emano publicist, Fredrik Gertten director. Photo: Jason Wawro
BBB_05	Fredrik Gertten at the world premiere at Los Angeles Film Festival 2009. Photo: Jason Wawro
BBB_06	Controversy with Film Independent director Dawn Hudson about the disclaimer at the world premiere at Los Angeles Film Festival 2009. (From left) Dawn Hudson, Fredrik Gertten. Photo: Jason Wawro
BBB_07	Team video conference. Publicist David Magdael shows the front page of the LA Business Journal. "Documentary turns Dole foe, into hero despite evidence that he fabricated facts of court case. (From left) Fredrik Gertten, David Magdael. Photo: Owoo
BBB_08	Fredrik Gertten looking out the window at his office. Photo: Emma Svensson
BBB_09	Fredrik Gertten at his desk. Photo: Emma Svensson
BBB_10	Fredrik Gertten at his desk. Photo: Emma Svensson
BBB_11	The product. Photo: Anna Sivertsson
BBB_12	Lawyer Lincoln Bandlow shows the shelf of material it takes to defend the film. (From left) Fredrik Gertten, Lincoln Bandlow. Photo: Joseph Aguirre
BBB_13	Blogger Alfonso Allende who refused to buy a Dole fruit salad at a hamburger restaurant. Photo: Stefan Berg
BBB_14	Before SVT morning show. Fredrik Gertten. Photo: Terese Mörnvik
BBB_15	Fredrik Gertten getting prepared for the SVT Morning Show, the day of the screening of BANANAS!* in the Swedish Parliament. Photo: Terese Mörnvik