

Is there a business model that is economically, ethically, and community strong?

Where can I work that I feel good about how the community is treated?

What is an alternative to our current economic system that is fulfilling?

Tired of big corporations usurping wealth from your community?

Is it possible to have a fair business that pays a living wage?

Is competition the only effective economic model?

Wish your community owned the place you work?

Is there a solution our boom -> bust economy?

Afraid to leave your job for financial reasons?

Want flexibility to do different tasks at work?

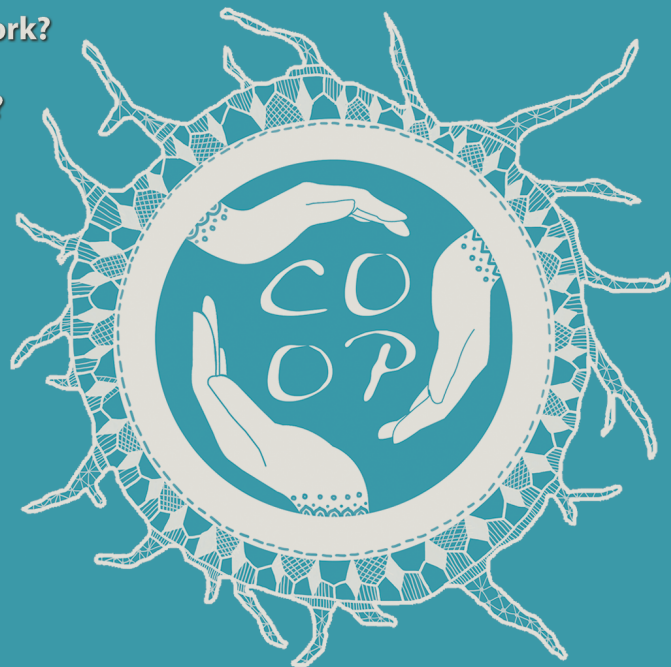

What if everyone's ideas had value?

Want democracy in the workplace?

Is your small business struggling?

Feel like your work is unstable?

Does there need to be a 'boss'?

THE ANSWER IS cooperatives

FREE COOPERATIVE DEVELOPMENT WORKSHOP!
FOR STUDENTS AND PROFESSORS

APRIL 9th, 2pm-4pm
CSULB: LA1-214

