

“My family’s health is too important for that.”

Don't privatise our hospitals.

“Outsourcing health services means private companies make profit from patients.. We have a right to decent, affordable public health.”

Campbell Newman and Lawrence Springborg are endangering Queenslanders with their plans for privatisation. Their first target is our valuable health and hospital services.

They are selling out their responsibility to provide quality healthcare and handing it off to big companies whose first and major priority is to turn a profit.

Campbell Newman's plans for the privatisation of our hospitals goes against the grain. His plans to privatise critical health services will mean the cheapest services, not the best.

PUBLIC HOSPITALS

NOT FOR SALE

All Queenslanders should have access to the best hospitals and health care no matter where they live or what they earn.

The services that we all rely on are too important to be left to politicians who are walking away from their responsibility. With you, we can build the quality services that we all need.

Join thousands of other Queenslanders getting involved in supporting their community. For the Queensland we all deserve.
