101 Ideas for Adults to Grow in Faith

Goal — This workshop is designed to help participants discover adult education opportunities and resources for use in the setting of the local church.

Objectives — Activities in this workshop are designed to enable participants to:
1. List learning activities for adults which are already happening in their local church setting and to list activities to which an educational component might be added.
2. Identify resources which might be used in their local church with new or existing adult groups.
3. Describe next steps they might take to bring this information back to their local churches.

Preparation — Set up a display of adult education resources on a table in the front of the room so the leader and participants can demonstrate ideas from the resources. The attached bibliography suggests resources which you might include. Many UCC resource centers or conference offices have or can obtain samples of these materials for display. There are specific suggestions in the design below for using several resources:

- Feasting with God: Adventures in Table Spirituality by Holly W. Whitcomb, which has ideas easily adaptable to gatherings which include men, women, youth and children.
- Resources from The Inviting Word curriculum, particularly Imaging the Word and The Word and You.
- The Book of Daily Prayer for the current year.

Since many of the settings in the local church are for small groups, be sure to include small group resources on a variety of topics.

Select a poem, image, or prayer from Imaging the Word or a prayer from The Book of Daily Prayer for the opening worship moment.

If you don’t have 90 minutes – This workshop, while designed for 90 minutes, may be adapted to fit the time allocated. When time is limited allow less time for each activity even though it will limit discussion. It saves some time to have the whole group brainstorm a list of settings for adult education during the last two activities, eliminating the small group work and the reports from small groups.

Introductions (10 minutes)
Get acquainted informally with people as they arrive. To begin, ask group members to introduce themselves, sharing their role in their local church and why they are interested in this workshop.

Opening Worship Moment (5 minutes)
Share a reading, poem, image, or prayer from Imaging the Word, selecting one from the Sunday before or after the date of the workshop, or use the prayer for today from The Book of Daily Prayer. This will illustrate how these resources might be used with an adult group to begin a meeting or an event.
Small Groups — Collecting Information (20 minutes)
Ask participants to form small groups of two to four persons or, if there are natural small groups from local churches, ask people to cluster with others from their local church. Ask each group to create four lists on newsprint sheets:

- List all the intentional education activities for adults which are already happening in the your local church. Who attends, what age(s), interests?
- List any groups at your church involving adults or programs which do not include intentional education. Who attends, what ages(s), interests?
- List the informal gatherings associated with your church, such as people meeting for lunch after church, for coffee before church, or evening social gatherings. Who gathers informally, when and where? Who attends, what age(s), interests?
- List any other gatherings, committees, fellowship groups, and activities which happen at your church and include adults. Who attends, what ages(s), interests?

Reports on Current Adult Education Activities and Programs (15 minutes)
Display the newsprint lists for all to see. Ask small groups to report briefly about their lists of current adult education activities from local churches. Affirm these activities as helpful and encourage participants to take notes about what is working in other congregations. Many of these activities meet real needs in the local church. The old adage, “If it isn’t broken, don’t fix it,” may apply here.

Ideas for Adult Education Activities (20 minutes)
Ask small groups to report their lists of other events and activities in the life of their congregation, asking the group to think about: “How can we add some education time to these events?” Some ideas you might share are:

- Openings with lectionary study. Suggest that resources from Seasons of the Spirit are excellent to use here.
- Start small; open with sharing time; scripture reading; build to discussion and prayer.
- Examples of using resources with an existing group:
  - Select a scripture related to an event theme. Use a Bible story which has several characters and, to facilitate discussion, ask people to move into clusters with others who like or identify with a particular character. Then ask people in the clusters to share with others why they chose the character.
  - Sharing memories around sights, sounds, or smells for event. Select an example from Feasting with God: Adventures in Table Spirituality. Ask the group to think with you about how many different ways we could present the same theme to a variety of groups.
  - Explore using resources in different groups already gathering such as:
    - Choir – use a lectionary reading, or discuss the words of an anthem or hymn text and how they fit worship on the next Sunday.
    - Committee meetings – open with sharing ways the lectionary readings for the coming Sunday impact business for the gathering.
    - Fellowship groups – discuss resources which might be used for the opening and closing of the event.
One church has “Lunch Bunch” gatherings after worship on Sunday to share ideas and reactions to the sermon and worship. In this congregation there are four restaurants where groups gather weekly for brunch after worship. The pastor attends a different group each week. Each week, a church member in each group convenes the gathering.

Discuss ways education time might be added to fund-raising activities, work activities, or to planning meetings.

Dinners – Feasting with God has suggestions for openings at planning sessions and for the meals themselves.

Bazaar groups – Sharing memories from childhood, comfort foods, smells, candles.

Men’s and women’s gatherings.

Ideas for Developing New Adult Education Activities (20 minutes)
Ask the group to identify possibilities for adults learning in the church which are missing in their own local church. Where can you start new groups? How can you help people with similar interests find one another in your church community? Consider support groups, care giving groups, fellowship groups, age groupings.

Many of the titles published by Pilgrim Press and United Church Press may be used for adult discussion groups. Give people an opportunity to look at resources on display. Ask them to choose one to “introduce” to the group, describing ways it might be used with a current or new group of adults in their local church.

Ask people to consider how they will share the information they have gained from this workshop with others in their church. Give each person or church group an opportunity to share their plans.

Close with prayer.

Thanks to Shirley DeMartinis for developing this workshop.
