INTRODUCTION

As the world changes drastically around us, it is more important than ever to make our voices heard at the polls on November 4th.

The hope inspired by the revolutions that swept across the Arab world four years ago has turned into a desperate and urgent fear of violent extremists threatening the entire region. The Israeli-Palestinian conflict saw yet another cycle of failed negotiations coupled with tragedy and violence; now a just resolution appears further away than it has been in decades. The wars in Iraq and Syria continue to tear apart whole societies and fundamentally redefine the role of the global community.

At home, our government has yet to achieve the right balance between protecting our national security and preserving our civil liberties. We have seen countless accounts of alarming, intrusive surveillance programs targeting our community that violate our constitutionally guaranteed rights as equal citizens. Hard won momentum pushing forward immigration reform stalled and another session of congress will end without enacting much needed reform of our immigration system.

The coming election will have to address all these questions and more, and your vote will shape the direction of this country for decades to come. Our community has been a part of the national conversation on these issues and it is critical that we get to the ballot box in November. We have compiled this Voter Guide to help you educate yourself before going to the polls. It contains important information about the voting process in your state and contact information for parties and candidates.

As our community of nearly 4 million Arab Americans continues to grow both in size and in political prominence, we remain focused and committed to the empowerment of our community and the betterment of our nation. For many, that begins at the ballot box. Use this guide, share it, and Yalla Vote!
The state of Michigan is known for its historically contentious and close elections. The upcoming election cycle is no different, as it is full of toss up races, resulting from incumbents who are retiring and leaving vacant seats. Michigan’s economy also remains a forefront in this election cycle.

Michigan has the highest concentration of Arab Americans nationwide, with over 190,000 according to the latest Census information. However, we estimate that due to undercounting, Michigan actually boasts a vibrant community of over 500,000 Arab Americans. For that reason, Michigan’s Arab Americans have long had a high profile in the media and have been a primary target for hate groups. Unsurprisingly, Michigan is often the first state to confront many of the most important issues facing our community on the civil liberties front. For example, Dearborn’s large Arab American community has always assumed that there was increased surveillance from government agencies. The shocking extent of government surveillance was revealed by recent exposures that showed Dearborn to be the #2 city on the FBI’s terrorist watch list, among cities like New York, Houston and Chicago, which have much larger populations. With so many core civil liberties issues unfolding every day, Michigan’s Arab American community must make their voices heard this November.

While Michigan has not passed any significant voter ID laws, recent reports that absentee voting was restricted for members of the Arab American community in the lead-up to the primary and the state’s response to these critiques raised concerns about voter suppression. In a win for the community, a Wayne County Judge dismissed a lawsuit filed by State Rep. David Nathan alleging voter fraud in Dearborn Heights.

In 2014 the gubernatorial election, first-term incumbent Rick Snyder (R) faces off against Democrat Mark Schauer (D) in a close race. Schauer is a former member of the U.S. House of Representatives, the Michigan State Senate, and the Michigan House of Representatives. The race has been deemed a toss-up, which is only heightened by the fact that Michigan is historically prone to flipping, or splitting, party control like in 2010 when Michigan elected a Republican Governor (Snyder) with nearly 60% of the vote but elected Barak Obama in both the 2008 and 2012 Presidential elections. Snyder’s current approval ratings are nowhere near what they were in 2010. These low approval ratings are attributed to a number of factors not the least of which was his controversial “right-to-work” policy which caused unions across Michigan to protest in mass. More recently, Snyder has been chastised for comparing the widespread damage caused by flooding in Detroit to a leak at his lake house. The tone deaf comment and Detroit’s struggle to recover from flood have become a potential political football.

Snyder and Schauer have both established strong relations with our community. The Arab American community hosted Snyder was hosted by the Arab American community earlier this year. In reference to community’s handling of egregious Islamophobic incidents, Snyder referred to Dearborn as a “good community hosted Snyder was hosted by the Arab American community earlier this year. In reference to community’s handling of egregious Islamophobic incidents, Snyder referred to Dearborn as a “good community.”

In the race to compete for the Michigan Senate, incumbent Democrat Carl Levin (D) is another to keep an eye on as a possibility for Democrats to gain a seat in the U.S. Senate. Levin is expected to be reelected in November.

As always, we highlight Arab American candidates and representatives, including incumbent Justin Amash from District 3, who fought off smears from his Republican opponent calling him “Al Qaeda’s best friend in Congress” during the primary. As the district remains heavily Republican, Amash is expected to be reelected in November.

Other Arab Americans running at the state level include Dearborn’s George Darany and Johnnie Saleem, and Warren’s Nick Hawatmeh. Although running unopposed, notable Arab American judges running this November for reelection are David Allen (Wayne County, 3rd Circuit Court), Charlene Mekled-Elder (Wayne County, 3rd Circuit Court) and Henry William Saad (Michigan Court of Appeals, 2nd District).

ELECTIONS
General Election Tuesday, November 4, 2014
The polls will OPEN at 7:00 AM and CLOSE at 8:00 PM.

REGISTER TO VOTE
You are eligible to vote in Michigan if you are:
• A U.S. citizen
• At least 18 years old by Election Day
• A resident of Michigan and the city or township where you are applying to register

You can register to vote by mail; at your county, city, or township clerk’s office; or by visiting any Secretary of State branch office. You can download the Voter Registration Application online at http://www.michigan.gov/documents/AvoterRegistration_97046_7.pdf.

In addition, the following State agencies offer voter registration services to their clients: Department of Human Services, the Department of Community Health and the Department of Career Development. Military recruitment centers also provide voter registration services.

The last day to register for the November 4 General Elections is October 6, 2014.
ABSENTEE VOTING
As a registered Michigan voter, you may obtain an absentee voter ballot if you are:

- age 60 years old or older
- unable to vote without assistance at the polls
- expecting to be out of town on Election Day
- in jail awaiting arraignment or trial
- unable to attend the polls due to religious reasons
- appointed to work as an election inspector in a precinct outside of your precinct of residence.

Your request for an absentee voter ballot must be in writing and can be submitted to your city or township clerk (for assistance in obtaining the address of your city or township clerk, see the Michigan Voter Information Center).

Your request must include one of the six statutory reasons and your signature. You must request an absentee voter ballot by sending the online application, a letter, a postcard, or a pre-printed application form obtained from your local clerk's office to your local clerk. Requests to have an absentee voter ballot mailed to you must be received by your clerk no later than 2 p.m. the Saturday before the election. The online application for an absentee ballot can be found at http://www.mi.gov/documents/AbsentVoterBallot_105377_7.pdf

Your completed ballot must be received by your local election clerk's office by 8PM on Election Day. The Michigan Voter Information Center will help you locate the office if the address is not provided on the return envelope.

EARLY VOTING
While some states allow all voters to cast ballots prior to Election Day, Michigan does not have early voting.

AT THE POLLS
ID Requirements
Michigan voters MUST have picture ID which can be in the form of:

- Michigan driver’s license
- Michigan personal identification card
- Current driver’s license or personal ID card issued by another state
- Current federal state government-issued photo identification
- Current U.S. passport
- Current military ID card with photo
- Current student identification card with photo from a high school or an accredited institution of higher education
- Current tribal identification with photo

If you do not have a photo ID, you may still vote. You will just need to sign an affidavit stating that you do not have a photo ID and your ballot will be counted with the rest.

Registration for Groups with Special Needs
Disabled Voters
Voters with disabilities who require assistance in casting a ballot may receive assistance from another person provided that the person assisting the voter is not the voter’s employer, agent of that employer or an officer or agent of a union to which the voter belongs. Other than city or township residency and age

STATE ELECTION INFORMATION
requirements, state and federal laws do not place any other restrictions on the right to vote. Because of this statute, disabled status applies to physical disabilities, mental disabilities, non-English speakers and other cases with discretion.

It is important to call the clerk's office ahead of time to make sure the voting site is free of obstructions. If the precinct is not accessible, the disabled voter will be directed to an alternative site that is accessible. For more information, contact the local clerk. Hearing impaired residents with questions may contact the Department of State’s Bureau of Elections by TTY at (517) 322-1477.

Persons confined in jail
A person who is confined in a jail or prison after being legally convicted and sentenced for a crime is not permitted to vote at an election.

Candidates at the Polls
Candidates may not remain in the polling place after they have voted because of the possible conflict with the provisions which prohibit campaigning within 100 feet of the polls.

Working at the Polls: Inspectors, Challengers, and Poll Watchers
Precinct Inspector
Precinct inspectors are people who are paid to assist voters at the polls on Election Day. A precinct inspector must be a registered voter of the county. They cannot be a challenger, candidate, member of a candidate’s immediate family, or a member of the local Board of Canvassers. Anyone convicted of a felony or an election crime may not serve.

Election Inspector
Registered voters interested in serving as election inspectors must submit an election inspector application to their local clerk. In addition to their name, address and date of birth, applicants must include their political party preference and qualifications to fill the position such as education or experience. The application is available online.

Poll Watchers
A person who wishes to observe the election process -- who is not a qualified election challenger - is commonly called a “poll watcher.”

Responsibilities:
Does not have to be a registered voter
- Must sit or stand in the ‘public area’ of the polling place where they will not interfere with the voting process
- May look at the Poll Book at the discretion of a precinct board chairperson; may not touch the Poll Book or any other voting records

Rick Snyder is the incumbent Republican governor of Michigan, having been sworn in on January 1, 2011. He grew up in Battle Creek, MI and earned his Bachelor’s, Master’s, and Law degrees at the University of Michigan. He is a successful businessman and has previously worked as the chairman of the board of Gateway founded Avalon Investments Inc. as well as Ardesta LLC. He is married and has three children.

According to his website, Rick Snyder stands for:

• Continued collaboration between the state and local agencies, as well as more resources for crime prevention and intervention
• The “Healthy Michigan” healthcare plan
• Embracing immigration
• A comprehensive energy policy that protects our environment while at the same time ensuring adaptable, affordable and reliable energy through programs like, “Michigan Saves”
• Expanding the Michigan tourist industry
• Making sure veterans are connected to their benefits through the Michigan Veterans Affairs Agency
• Investing in higher education, giving more students the chance to attend college, as well as giving parents new options for finding the best education for their child
• Flexible dual enrollments for high-achieving students and greater alternatives for kids stuck falling behind in struggling schools

Mark Schauer is the Democratic candidate for Michigan’s governor. He is the former U.S. Representative for Michigan’s 7th congressional district. He also served on the Michigan State Senate and the Michigan House of Representatives. He was a founding board member of Battle Creek’s Habitat for Humanity, and in 2003 he was named the “Public Official of the Year” by Habitat for Humanity of Michigan. He lives in Battle Creek with his wife, Christine Schauer. Lisa Brown previously served as State Representative for Michigan’s 39th District, and is currently the Oakland County Clerk and Register of Deeds.

According to his website, Mark Schauer stands for:

• Investing in education to prepare Michiganders for 21st century jobs by reversing cuts to K-12 classrooms and universities, increasing need-based financial aid, and investing in community colleges and technical and skilled trades training programs
• Cutting taxes for the middle class by restoring the Child Tax Credit, increasing the Earned Income Tax Credit, and eliminating the Snyder Retirement Tax
• Fixing roads by fighting to get more of our tax dollars back from Washington and end Michigan’s status as a donor state, audit state government and cut wasteful spending on poor oversight of contractors
• Banning special deals for elected officials’ family and friends, capping pay raises for administration officials, and ending contracts with incompetent firms that deliver standard services in Michigan prisons
• Setting an aggressive, achievable goal for clean energy by raising Michigan’s Renewable Energy Standard to require 30 percent of the state’s electricity to come from clean, renewable sources by 2035
• Ensuring equal pay for men and women
Terri Lynn Land is the Republican candidate running to represent Michigan in the U.S. Senate. She was born and grew up in Grand Rapids, later moving on to graduate from Hope College with a B.A. in Political Science. She was Michigan's Secretary of State from 2003-2010. She is currently a Board Member for Gift of Life of Michigan and the co-founder of the Byron Center Community Fine Arts Council. Previously, she served on the Board of the American Heart Association, the U.S. Supreme Court Historical Society, the Women's Resource Center of Grand Rapids, and more.

According to her website, Terri Lynn Land stands for:

- Encouraging competition among insurance companies and health care providers by allowing people to purchase insurance across state lines and allowing small businesses and individuals to buy insurance as a group
- Improving transparency in health care with respect to prices by doctors and hospitals providing patients with better information about costs before treatment
- Ensuring that someone with a pre-existing condition will not be denied coverage
- The safe production and use of natural gas, oil, coal, nuclear, solar, wind, and biofuels
- Supporting the construction of the Keystone XL pipeline to reduce our dependence on Middle East oil
- Supporting new agricultural visas for both seasonal and year-round workers
- Crop insurance programs as well as other federal insurance programs to protect farmers when there is a drought or other type of natural disaster
- Common sense efforts to reign in the EPA
- Protecting Michigan's fresh water resources
- Developing fair trade agreements that will open up markets to Michigan's exports
- Reforming the tax code to encourage job growth, increase capital investment
- Flexibility for women in the workplace, especially those with children and families

Gary Peters is the Democratic candidate for Michigan's seat in the U.S. Senate. He is currently a member of the U.S. House of Representatives, an office he has held since 2009. Previously, he represented the 14th District in the Michigan Senate. He grew up in Pontiac, MI and went on to earn an MBA from the University of Detroit, a degree from Wayne State University Law School and an M.A. from Michigan State University. He also served in the United States Navy Reserve as a Lieutenant Commander and a Seabee Combat Warfare Specialist.

According to his website, Gary Peters stands for:

- Supporting the Farm Bill
- Cracking down on foreign companies that steal American ideas, and holding trading partners who unfairly manipulate their currency accountable
- Holding companies who outsource Michigan jobs accountable
- Supporting legislation to institute the “Buffett Rule”
- Opposing the Ryan Budget Plan, which would dismantle Medicare and raise taxes
- Measuring every program for results and ending the ones that aren’t working
- Training and educating the workforce to fill the jobs that he will create, while keeping the student interest rates from doubling
- Promoting advanced vehicle manufacturing and alternative energy production
- Supporting the Great Lakes Restoration Initiative, which invests in cleanup efforts and helps protect against the threat of invasive species like Asian Carp and algal blooms
- Pushing for a federal study of the effects of pet coke, (a byproduct form oil refining) on public health and the environment as well as best practice management for storing and handling pet coke
- Banning directional oil and gas drilling under the Great Lakes
- Marriage equality and equality in the workplace, including the armed forces
