ARAB AMERICAN INSTITUTE
INTRODUCTION

As the world changes drastically around us, it is more important than ever to make our voices heard at the polls on November 4th.

The hope inspired by the revolutions that swept across the Arab world four years ago has turned into a desperate and urgent fear of violent extremists threatening the entire region. The Israeli-Palestinian conflict saw yet another cycle of failed negotiations coupled with tragedy and violence; now a just resolution appears further away than it has been in decades. The wars in Iraq and Syria continue to tear apart whole societies and fundamentally redefine the role of the global community.

At home, our government has yet to achieve the right balance between protecting our national security and preserving our civil liberties. We have seen countless accounts of alarming, intrusive surveillance programs targeting our community that violate our constitutionally guaranteed rights as equal citizens. Hard won momentum pushing forward immigration reform stalled and another session of congress will end without enacting much needed reform of our immigration system.

The coming election will have to address all these questions and more, and your vote will shape the direction of this country for decades to come. Our community has been a part of the national conversation on these issues and it is critical that we get to the ballot box in November. We have compiled this Voter Guide to help you educate yourself before going to the polls. It contains important information about the voting process in your state and contact information for parties and candidates.

As our community of nearly 4 million Arab Americans continues to grow both in size and in political prominence, we remain focused and committed to the empowerment of our community and the betterment of our nation. For many, that begins at the ballot box. Use this guide, share it, and Yalla Vote!
In November, New Jersey elections will be held for a seat in the United States Senate and for twelve representatives in the United States House of Representatives. According to the latest Census data, New Jersey is home to an Arab American community of over 85,000. However, we estimate that due to undercounting, New Jersey actually boasts a vibrant and politically active Arab American community numbering over 250,000.

Governed by Republican Chris Christie, New Jersey has become an increasingly Democratic state. The “Bridgegate” incident has caused the approval rating for the Republican Governor and potential 2016 presidential candidate to drop significantly. The incident has also cast doubt on the Republican hope that statewide backlash against the Affordable Care Act (“Obamacare”) would help secure more Senatorial and Congressional seats that were carried by Republican presidential candidates from 1968 to 1988.

The Senate election is between incumbent Cory Booker (D) and former 1978 U.S. Senate nominee and Reagan speechwriter Jeffrey Bell (R). Booker, who became something of a political superstar as Mayor of Newark and as the first African American Senator from New Jersey, is seen as a clear front runner for his first full six-year term. Some analysts have gone as far as to say that only a scandal could keep Booker from securing re-election, but Bell has narrowed Booker’s lead in recent weeks as Booker also campaigns and raises money for vulnerable Democratic senators all over the country. During the recent Gaza crisis, Booker unequivocally supported Israel, particularly in a recent Senate speech that went viral online. In his speech, Booker did not mention the plight of Palestinians and went to extremes to emphasize that Israel is facing existential crises that require the U.S.’s unwavering support.

Despite his low profile, Republicans see Bell as a strong challenger. Bell has already made some noise attacking Booker’s ”REDEEM Act,” co-authored with Republican Rand Paul. According to Bell, the act hides criminal history information from employers as it seeks to reduce obstacles that prevent youths and adults convicted of non-violent crimes from rejoining society. Booker’s campaign is well funded compared to Bell’s war chest. Booker has raised $3.5 million, with large support from Wall Street and Silicon Valley. Bell has started running ads attacking Booker’s policies on the economy and touting his position on reviving the gold standard.

In the Congressional elections, New Jersey has two chances to elect a woman to Congress, something that has not happened since 2000. Alimee Belgard (D) is running against Tom MacArthur (R) for the seat in the toss up 3rd district, as incumbent Jon Runyan (R) retires. State senator Bonnie Watson Coleman (D) is the clear favorite to take over retiring incumbent Rush Holt’s seat in the 12th district. In the 1st district, radio personality and former NFL player Garry Cobb (R) is running against favorite Donald Norcross (D) in a special election after Rep. Rob Andrews (D) resigned over corruption allegations. Notably, Arab American candidate Mike Assad lost in the Republican primary for the 2nd district to incumbent Frank LoBiondo, who is challenged by Democrat Bill Hughes. At the moment, the competitive races in Districts 2 and 3 lean Republican.

While the 5th District race is not considered a “toss-up”, it is important to mention incumbent Scott Garrett (R), who introduced the worrisome “Jerusalem Embassy and Recognition Act” which sought to officially recognize Jerusalem as Israel’s capital by relocating the U.S. embassy from Tel Aviv to Jerusalem. This policy has been controversial for decades, as consecutive U.S. Presidents have blocked the relocation and maintained that the status of Jerusalem is an issue that should be resolved in final status negotiations between Israelis and Palestinians.

EARLY VOTING
While some states allow all voters to cast ballots prior to Election Day, New Jersey does not have early voting. Of course, qualified New Jersey voters can cast absentee ballots prior to Election Day.

AT THE POLLS
ID Requirements
If an individual registered to vote by mail in their county after January 1st, 2003, and never voted in a federal election in the County, he or she is required to provide identification. If they did not provide identification before voting for the first time at the polling place they must show the board workers identification before voting.

Identifying document may include:
- NJ Driver's License
- Military or other Government ID
- Student or Job ID Store Membership Card
- Bank Statement
- Pay Check
- Car Registration
- Rent receipt
- Government check or document
- Sample ballot
- Non-photo NJ driver's license
- Utility Bill

Registration for Groups with Special Needs
If a voter is blind, physically disabled, cannot read the ballot on the machine, or is a non-English speaker, he or she will be allowed to have someone of their choice in the voting machine to assist them. Under federal law, the voter cannot get assistance from a representative of their employer or union for federal elections.

If a voter is alone and is entitled to assistance, two board members of opposite political parties may help him or her. The voter has a right to have one or both workers assist them - it is their choice.

The district board workers must fill out a disability certificate for a voter before they go into the voting machine.

Working at the Polls
For those who want to work at the polls, they must contact their county's Board of Elections to receive the specific details. Each county is different so it's important that you contact your county's Board of Election. Below are brief descriptions of each county's Board of Elections and some of the rules and requirements to be a poll worker.

Poll Watcher
Any citizen may go to a polling place and observe. The poll watcher watches to see if any violations of the election laws occur. If such a violation occurs, the poll watcher is to inform the election board of the violation. The election board consists of the poll workers. Uniformed law enforcement officers are not allowed to be poll watchers.

They cannot use the poll workers' supplies. The poll watcher may not interfere with or impede the conduct of any election. He/she should come no closer to the official table or the voting booths than is reasonably necessary. Unless there is an observation of questionable nature, the poll watcher is not permitted to speak to the election board or voter.

Things poll watchers may do:
- The first poll watcher of the Election Day has the right to see that the ballot box is empty before the first ballot is cast.
- A poll watcher may observe the distribution of the ballot to the voter and after the voter has voted the depositing of ballot into the ballot box.
- If the poll watcher observes what he thinks might be a violation, he/she may question a voter's privilege by stating his/her case to the election board. Remember, the election board consists of the poll workers at that precinct.
- The poll watcher may observe the closing procedures when the polls close. A poll watcher is not allowed to talk to any person in the polling place except when questioning a procedure.

No poll watcher may wear anything advertising a candidacy or promoting for or against an issue. Poll watchers are official observers only. They may observe the conduct of the election before, during and after the polls close. The election board is the sole authority in the polling place on Election Day. No person, except the board, may handle or touch election supplies and materials. If the poll watcher feels that a violation has taken place during an election, the poll watcher must notify the election board. Electioneering, campaigning or solicitation within 100 feet of the entrance to the polling room is prohibited.

Poll Worker
The law requires that everyone who works in a polling place on Election Day receive training, including instruction on the rights of voters with disabilities. Also, a poll worker shall be a voter of the state and the poll worker may serve only in the precinct for which his or her appointment is received. Furthermore, a student may be appointed as a poll worker. However, an elections official may appoint not more than five students per precinct to serve under the direct supervision of precinct board members designated by the elections official.

Poll workers also learn about issues confronting voters who have disabilities, including access barriers and the need to make reasonable modification of policies and procedures to allow equals access to vote.

www.corybooker.com

Cory Booker is the incumbent Democratic Senator currently representing New Jersey. He became New Jersey’s first African-American Senator when he won a special election in 2013 to fill the late Frank Lautenberg’s seat. He was previously the two-term Mayor of Newark. Born in Washington, D.C., Booker was raised in New Jersey before attending Stanford where he received a B.A. and Masters. He received a Rhodes Scholarship before completing his J.D. at Yale Law School.

According to his website, Cory Booker will represent the following ideals in Washington:

- Safeguarding Civil Rights and Liberties by supporting marriage equality, balancing privacy and national security, and protecting the right to vote
- Working to reduce the deficit, protecting those struggling to stay in the middle class, and ensuring economic and fairness applies to all, home and abroad
- Improving public education by providing more options and rewarding good teachers
- Making higher education more affordable by fighting the student debt crisis
- Fighting for a clean environment by eliminating oil and gas subsidies that harm green development, enforcing current environmental protection law, opposing off shore drilling in New Jersey, and supporting climate change legislation
- Supporting the Affordable Care Act and legislation that will decrease the cost of health care
- Defending women’s right to make decisions about their reproductive health
- Stopping irresponsible military spending, improving cybersecurity, resisting a nuclear Iran, levelling the playing field with China, supporting foreign development in Africa and elsewhere, and reducing reliance on foreign oil by improving green alternatives
- Supporting Israeli and Palestinian peace and a two state solution that ensures Israel’s security
- Supporting universal background checks on firearms sales and high capacity magazine restrictions
- Reforming the criminal justice system to fight the cycle of arrest and re-arrest
- Promoting equal pay for women and promote women-owned businesses

Jeffery Bell (R) Challenger

www.bell2014.com

Jeff Bell is the Republican Candidate for U.S. Senate. Bell has worked at the highest levels of American politics and public policy for over forty years. Bell previously ran for U.S. Senate in 1978 and worked in the Reagan Administration. He is a graduate of Columbia University and is the author of two books. He and his wife have four children and one granddaughter.

According to his website, Jeff Bell will represent the following ideals in Washington:

- Restoring middle class prosperity by attacking dysfunctional government policy that favors the wealthy
- Stabilizing the dollar by returning to the gold standard
- Real universal healthcare by creating a competitive marketplace that is affordable without insurance, allowing individuals to control their own health insurance, and providing public insurance to those who need it
- Expanding school choice through vouchers and tax credits and repeal Common Core
- Supporting Pro Life legislation
- Protecting religious freedom and traditional marriage
- Banning internet gambling
- Resisting drug legalization
- Promoting legal immigration through reforms that include generous guest worker programs
- Maintaining America’s position as a world leader and force for good
- A robust energy policy that focuses on natural gas exploration and reducing the reliance on foreign oil
