

CALL FOR ARTICLES

In response to valuable feedback from our members, the AECEO has established an editorial committee to develop eceLINK into a professional, peer-reviewed journal for Ontario's early learning and child care community. AECEO's emerging vision will provide RECE professionals, educators, researchers and university and college students with opportunities to share their knowledge and ideas through peer-reviewed articles.

If you are interested in participating on the editorial committee or have questions about the submission process, please contact the provincial office. As always, we want to hear from you!
