Ebola: Resources For Flight Attendants

Coming into contact with the Ebola virus onboard the aircraft is highly unlikely, but as long as any risk exists, we must be prepared to act expeditiously. AFA has created an online Ebola Resource Center for Flight Attendants, complete with health guidance, recent news articles, AFA member communications and media releases, as well as a list of precautions you can take if a passenger is showing signs or symptoms of Ebola.

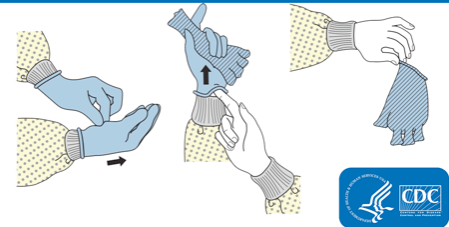

AFA continues to press key agencies overseeing aviation safety and health to enact protective and response measures needed to support aviation's first responders and safe air travel. We also continue to coordinate with unions representing workers on the front lines of managing the potential risk of Ebola exposure.

HOW TO SAFELY REMOVE PERSONAL PROTECTIVE EQUIPMENT (PPE)

- Outside of gloves are contaminated!
- If your hands get contaminated during glove removal, immediately wash your hands or use an alcohol-based hand sanitizer
- Using a gloved hand, grasp the palm area of the other gloved hand and peel off first glove
- Hold removed glove in gloved hand
- Slide fingers of ungloved hand under remaining glove at wrist and peel off second glove over first glove
- Discard gloves in a waste container
- Wash your hands thoroughly

October 23rd at Chicago's Kent College of Law

AFA has been a leader in advocating for civil rights for over half a century, beginning with the fight for gender equality. As part of celebrating the 50th anniversary of the passage of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the role Flight Attendants have played in shaping American history will be honored on October 23 at 'The Civil Rights Act of 1964 @ 50: The Pioneering Role of Flight Attendants in Fighting Sex Discrimination'.
