Reporting questionnaire

Gender equality indicator 1: Gender composition of workforce

This indicator seeks information about the gender composition of relevant employers in a standardised format, to enable the aggregation of data across and within industries. The aggregated data in your workplace profile assists relevant employers in understanding the characteristics of their workforce, including in relation to occupational segregation, the position of women and men in management within their industry or sector, and patterns of potentially insecure employment.

NB. IMPORTANT:
- References to the Act mean the Workplace Gender Equality Act 2012.
- A formal ‘policy’ and/or ‘formal strategy’ in this questionnaire refers to formal policies and/or strategies that are either standalone or contained within another formal policy/formal strategy.
- Data provided in this reporting questionnaire covers the TOTAL reporting period from 1 April 2017 to 31 March 2018. (This differs from the workplace profile data which is taken at a point-in-time during the reporting period).
- Answers need to reflect ALL organisations covered in this report.
- If you select “NO, Insufficient resources/expertise” to any option, this may cover human or financial resources.

1.13 If your organisation would like to provide additional information relating to gender equality indicator 1, please do so below.

In answering questions under the Workplace Gender Equality Reporting Questionnaire, it is important to understand the three categories of employees that we have at the AMWU:

Officials

All Officials are members of the AMWU, and are elected to their positions from the Union’s Membership every four years. The positions range from National President, National Secretary to State Secretary, Regional Secretary and Elected Organisers. The terms and conditions of an Officials workplace entitlements are taken from the National Conference Policy and the rules of the AMWU. The National Conference Policy often derives from Workplace Agreements and Awards.

The AMWU draws many of our Industrial Officers, Organisers and our Officials from the Union’s members. In large part resulting from segregation in the occupations and industries in which our members work, the proportion of women members in our union stands at 8% total membership. This results in a reduced pool for employment options.

Officers

Officer is a specific category of appointed employee defined by Union Rules. Typically, Officers work in specific skilled areas, such as industrial research or advocacy, or in an administrative capacity managing the Union's finances, staff, computing, media, education, purchasing etc. Industrial Officers also fall under this category, and whilst they perform the same or similar tasks as Organisers, they are not elected but appointed.

The terms and conditions of an Officers workplace entitlements are taken from National Conference Policy and the rules of the AMWU. The National Conference Policy often derives from Workplace Agreements and Awards.

Administrative and Clerical Staff

People employed under this category of employment work under a negotiated collective agreement and are those who carry out the administrative and support functions of our Union.

The Union's Staff Enterprise Bargaining Agreement continues to have provisions regarding the Anna Stewart Memorial Programme which provides an opportunity for our staff to develop as Unionists.

The Women's Buddying Programme continues to operate as part of our strategy to retain female employees. Those who have completed surveys on the completion of this programme have said they have found this useful and a good induction programme.

Miscellaneous

The Union's Employment Assistance Programme (EAP) is there for all employees, where they may be experiencing difficult times or stresses in their lives. It is a confidential conversation between our employees and the programme and has the capacity to assist employees with family domestic violence or strategies to balance work / life.

Gender equality indicator 2: Gender composition of governing bodies

Gender composition of governing bodies is an indicator of gender equality at the highest level of organisational leadership and decision-making. This gender equality indicator seeks information on the representation of women and men on governing bodies. The term "governing body" in relation to a relevant employer is broad and depends on the nature of your organisation. It can mean the board of directors, trustees, committee of management, council or other governing authority of the employer.

2. The organisation(s) you are reporting on will have a governing body. In the Act, governing body is defined as "the board of directors, trustees, committee of management, council or other governing authority of the employer". This question relates to the highest governing body for your Australian entity, even if it is located overseas.

2.1 Please answer the following questions relating to each governing body covered in this report.

Note: If this report covers more than one organisation, the questions below will be repeated for each organisation before proceeding to question 2.2.

If your organisation's governing body is the same as your parent entity's, you will need to add your organisation's name BUT the numerical details of your parent entity's governing body.

Governing bodies contain delegates who are elected under the rules of the AMWU. Though the Union has no control over who nominates and who is elected, in recent years, the AMWU has sought to encourage female nomination to our Governing bodies, by piloting Women’s Leadership Development Course, and encouraging participation in Women’s Conferences.
Under rule to be nominated to our Governing bodies, you must be a member of the AMWU. The percentage on female members across the Union sits at 8%, and reduces to 5% in our Manufacturing area of membership and 3% in a number of states.

Staff of the AMWU are subject to the terms of the AMWU Staff Agreement 2017-2019.

Gender equality indicator 4: Flexible working and support for employees with family and caring responsibilities

This indicator will enable the collection and use of information from relevant employers about the availability and utility of employment terms, conditions and practices relating to flexible working arrangements for employees and to working arrangements supporting employees with family or caring responsibilities. One aim of this indicator is to improve the capacity of women and men to combine paid work and family or caring responsibilities through such arrangements. The achievement of this goal is fundamental to gender equality and to maximising Australia’s skilled workforce.

For Our Members

The AMWU has state based Womens Committees and regular National Womens meetings to increase women’s involvement in the AMWU and to deal with key issues.

During the reporting period some States held various events and activities for women members to network and partake in. The Committee also invited all women members to attend International Women’s Day as part of the Womens Rights at Work Festival. We also had attendance at the UNIFEM breakfast which provides an opportunity to unite, network and foster meaningful change into the future.

Women in Male Dominated Occupations & Industries (WIMDOI) which is a networking conference that has helped inspire, discuss challenges, successes and plans for the future for women in male dominated workplaces was held during the reporting period. The AMWU sent active delegates from each state to partake in.

The AMWU have also participated in various projects such as the Anna Stewart Memorial Project and have initiated the Helen Davis Memorial Project. These projects are designed to encourage female participation.

Another project introduced by the AMWU Nationally is the Jennifer Dowell Award. This is to recognise anyone (e.g. employee, delegate or member) who has done something noteworthy to enhance women’s opportunities. This year’s award was given to an Organiser in Northern Tasmania for his work with the Tasmanian’s Women’s Committee to hold a Women’s Conference in Launceston. This Conference was open to any women in the state who wanted to listen to 12 high profile women including our Lady Governor (Tasmania). It was a free event with over 200 women attending. Dinner and a goodie bag was also supplied through donations from businesses in the community.
