Dear Libby Post:

We are Janelle Babington and Penny Eims, animal welfare petitioners with AnimalVictory.org. We recently created a petition about a disturbing situation that happened outside of NYCHA's Breukelen Houses. Witnesses observed a couple encouraging their dogs to attack a feral cat colony at this location and the dogs successfully brutalized a cat named Tuxedo. According to one witness, Tuxedo was able to escape to a tree, but the couple used a stick to make him come back down, and the dogs proceeded to rip him apart.

It is our understanding that the police have been provided with information about the couple involved, but no charges have been made. This was a gruesome and hateful situation, and the people involved deserve to face serious repercussions for their actions. Attached you will find our petition, with signatures and comments from over 16,400 people who are outraged about what happened.

We, and our supporters, would like to get assistance from your agency for an investigation. This was a sadistic act of cruelty which much not go unpunished.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Janelle Babington and Penny Eims

Sadistic Couple Encouraged Dogs To Kill Beloved Neighborhood Cat - Animal Victory

A beloved cat in a Brooklyn, New York neighborhood suffered a horrific death after a sadistic couple encouraged their two dogs to attack him. The cat, dubbed Tuxedo, was part of a feral cat colony that lived at NYCHA's Breukelen Houses - the cat was a favorite of Latonya "Sassee" Walker's.
