

Sign: Stop Washington State Officials From Slaughtering Wolf Pack

Officials plan to start killing this pack of wolves despite research (a 2018 study) which shows that killing wolves in one particular area does little to reduce overall instances of wolf/cow encounters.

Maggie Howell, executive director of the Wolf Conservation Center stated, "WDFW has been killing wolves to deter conflict since 2012 when the agency wiped out the entire Wedge Pack, yet depredations on livestock continue. Peer-reviewed research demonstrates that killing predators is not only an ineffective solution to deter depredation on cows, but it can even result in increased attacks."

WDFW has stated that there are five adults and four cubs in this particular pack - is it right for these animals to be killed in the name of rancher profit? We don't think so. Please sign the petition asking for WDFW Director Kelly Susewind to halt the order to kill this pack.

115.	stéphane infrate	Aquitaine	No, Just No. The majestic Wolves mate for Life and ONLY the alpha reproduce ; entire pack cooperates to rear those young because they know resources are finite. They Only kill to eat and entire animal is consumed, nothing goes to waste. They control wild animal populations naturally and normally and are essential for the ecosystems balance and survival. See countless science and data backed articles. While there are 8 Billion wasteful Humans wolves are endangered. No to Killing of Any wolves they are a Natural heritage of this land,. They have been slaughtered to point of oblivion by man.

181. Patricia McWilliams		Northern Ireland		Washington authorities must do the right thing and protect these important and dangerously threatened wolves. Wolves were roaming the land alot longer than greedy humans were grazing cattle, taking into consideration how many cows a pack of wolves may kill to survive, it does not balance out considering how many cows are bred on a lot of occasions in very bad conditions for human beings to then consume and steal their milk, there really should not be any discussions to be had regarding the fate of these majestic animals. Too many wild animals have been destroyed by disrespectful and selfish people.

1067. Kay Martin	TX	its collective sense of logic. The cattle that have been allowed to push out the wild horses by the good old boy "let's cheat the taxpayers" so called ranchers and now they are starting on the wolves. The wild horses only have started costing the taxpayers since the government decided to round them up and hold them. Running free is where they belong. The wolves will kill off any older, ill, or crippled animals and set the balance right once more. Stop KILLING our wolves and our wild horses and remove the cattle and sheep NOW!!!
