

Sign: Stop Washington State Officials From Slaughtering Wolf Pack

Update 8/20/2019: According to the Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife, all of the wolves in the Old Profanity Territory (OPT) pack were killed by hired shooters. Since 2018, Director Susewind has authorized four "lethal removals" of the OPT pack. Late last week, a judge did rule against the state, ordering the slaughter to be halted, but the mandate came too late; the remaining wolves had already been killed.

According to the Center for Biological Diversity, the OPT pack is gone, but there are still members of the Togo pack who are alive - and they are unprotected. On August 9, Director Susewind authorized the survivors of the Togo pack to be killed.

Advocates are currently working to halt the state from killing the last two members of this pack. While it is too late for the OPT pack, it is not too late to add your name to this petition asking for a judge to stop the state authorized killing of the lone survivors of the Togo pack.

Update August 16, 2019: On Friday, while wolf advocates were in King County Superior Court getting an injunction to stop the wolf slaughter, sharpshooters for the Washington Department of Fish & Wildlife killed four of the five remaining wolves! The injunction to stop the killings was obtained, but now there is just one wolf left. Continue to sign the petition and let Director Kelly Susewind know that this mandate is despicable.

Update August 15, 2019: One by one, wolf families are being killed by state hired shooters. On Tuesday, the Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife (WDFW) announced that three wolves from the Old Profanity Territory pack had been killed. Of the three wolves shot, two were four-month-old cubs. The WDFW intends to find the surviving members of the pack from the air...and kill them. Please act now to ask Director Kelly Susewind to bring the killings to an end!

Maggie Howell, executive director of the Wolf Conservation Center stated, "WDFW has been killing wolves to deter conflict since 2012 when the agency wiped out the entire Wedge Pack, yet depredations on livestock continue. Peer-reviewed research demonstrates that killing predators is not only an ineffective solution to deter depredation on cows, but it can even result in increased attacks."

WDFW has stated that there are five adults and four cubs in this particular pack - is it right for these animals to be killed in the name

They Only kill to eat and entire animal is consumed, nothing goes to waste. They control wild animal populations naturally and normally and are essential for the ecosystems balance and survival. See countless science and data backed articles. While there are 8 Billion wasteful Humans wolves are endangered. No to Killing of Any wolves they are a Natural heritage of this land,. They have been slaughtered to point of oblivion by man.

72. Terri Heacock	FL	Why are privately owned cattle grazing on Federal lands in the first place? It's only common sense that it is a risk but when one of their cattle is attacked, the ranchers blame it on the wolves, regardless of whether they have any proof. Not fair, I'd say.

74. Janet Barnes	HI
75. Patricia McWilliams	Northern Ireland	Washington authorities must do the right thing and protect these important and dangerously threatened wolves. Wolves were roaming the land alot longer than greedy humans were grazing cattle, taking into consideration how many cows a pack of wolves may kill to survive, it does not balance out considering how many cows are bred on a lot of occasions in very bad conditions for human beings to then consume and steal their milk, there really should not be any discussions to be had regarding the fate of these majestic animals. Too many wild animals have been destroyed by disrespectful and selfish people.

The cattle that have been allowed to push out the wild horses by the good old boy "let's cheat the taxpayers" so called ranchers and now they are starting on the wolves. The wild horses only have started costing the taxpayers since the government decided to round them up and hold them. Running free is where they belong. The wolves will kill off any older, ill, or crippled animals and set the balance right once more. Stop KILLING our wolves and our wild horses and remove the cattle and sheep NOW!!!

900.	Judith Pecho			Get the damn cattle off public land and let then native species have their realm. This is outrageous. NM they protect coyotes, and they are not threatened. Some nature funds reimburse cattlemen for loss of stock. Get you cattle on your own land with fences, and hire cowboys or get dogs to guard your animals and leave the poor wolves alone. They have a right to live here on this planet too. Ever read the bible that we are steward of the living beings here?
901.	Linda Woolford			What is wrong with you, a valuable natural resource the wolves shot, sort it out

996.	Jocelyn Riggins			It is time to stop slaughtering Washington's wolves. There are programs in existence to help prevent livestock deaths and compensate ranchers for livestock taken. However, this requires the co-operation of the rancher. Some ranchers just want wolves eradicated and are not co-operating. This should not be permitted! Please do NOT allow the slaughter of the Togo pack.

1003.	Sue Erbe	MO		Don't wonder why the balance of nature is off and we're, rightly so, suffering the consequences. Destroying all of nature, animals and plant life as well, is a failure by humans to live up to our responsibility to care for God's creation. The ranchers have a responsibility to their livestock, NOT LETTING THEM ROAM WHERE THEY KNOW THEY WILL BE LEFT VULNERABLE TO THE WOLVES. Learn to co-exist with nature!
