

The Beats of Life” Creating the vibration around us!

Some people may ask – Why Drums & Tribal Ways? Well...

- Tribes are groups of human expression that has been present from the moment we are conceived – and before that, from the moment our ancestors were conceived, one generation after another, over thousands of years. We should all exist together — the heartbeats, the hoof beats, the wingbeats & drum beats – all rhythms of life.
- Our planet has its own rhythms – rhythms of sound and silence, rhythms of movement and pulsation, rhythms of light and dark, the never ending circles around the sun.
- The perfection of our world rests in cycles of movement, in rhythms. Our seasons bring different rhythms to life. The breeze blows through the trees, there is movement, flashes of light. Waves of the ocean can take us to a gentle place of calm or a powerful place of energy. Everything that lives has movement and rhythms.
- Beats are inherent in life, and when we drum, we bring ourselves to that place of deep connection with the tempo of the earth, of the cosmos, and we re-enter that place of perfection, where every single piece of the universe is connected with every other piece of the universe.
- The beats that we open to, that touch us, bring us into alignment with the ancient rhythms of our ancestors. We can find that place of harmony and deep connection when we are in a circle drumming together.
