Dear Minister

PROVISION OF ADDITIONAL FUNDING FOR PAID SPECIAL LEAVE FOR COMMUNITY SERVICE WORKERS IN ACT GOVERNMENT FUNDED SERVICES

I commend the ACT Government on its decision to provide ACT public sector workers with additional paid leave in respect of COVID-19 in the following circumstances:

- not ill, but must look after an immediate family member who is ill due to COVID-19; or
- not ill, but is excluded from the workplace due to isolation requirements that either affect them personally or affect an immediate family member.

Like many ACT public sector workers, community sector workers provide essential, frontline services which must continue to be provided during the Covid-19 Pandemic. The ACT Government is responsible for funding a wide array of non-Government community services including; family, youth and child protection services; homelessness, housing and tenancy services; neighbourhood centres; migrant and settlement services; community legal centres; peaks and advocacy organisations; community mental health and drug and alcohol services; women's services; Aboriginal services; some community aged care services.

The ACT Government relies on the community sector to provide these services on its behalf. We believe that the Government needs to extend to these workers, the same provisions that it has provided to public sector workers. Additional funding for paid special leave must be made available to community sector organisations to ensure they can meet their obligations to provide continuity of care during these extraordinary circumstances.

Workers in the sector, particularly those who work with communities who are especially vulnerable to Covid-19, must be able to exercise a positive duty of care where self-isolation is required. These workers are also just as likely as their public sector counterparts to be required to provide care to family members or affected by other closures due to isolation requirements.

Given the essential nature of the work performed by the community sector, and its reliance on Government funding to provide this work, we ask that the Government immediately make available additional funding for the provision of paid special leave, in line with what it has provided to ACT public sector workers.

As organisations are currently putting in place their continuity of service plans, and front-line workers are responding every day to the needs of the community – there is a great deal of urgency in dealing with this matter. The sector and the workforce cannot afford to have any funding or income uncertainty at this crucial point in time. I respectfully request that you give this request the serious and urgent consideration that it warrants and provide a response as a matter of urgency.

When the community of Canberra need our essential community services, our members are there for them. We cannot afford to have service disruptions as a result of workers not having access to paid special leave putting the health and safety of the workforce and community whom they support at risk.

Please, at this crucial time can the ACT Government be there for these essential front-line workers.

Yours sincerely
