

INTRODUCTION Hi, I'm volunteering today hoping to get your opinion on a few important issues.

Do you have a few minutes?

Great! My name is _____ and I'm volunteering with the Australian Conservation Foundation. We're an independent group. We're surveying today so we can tell politicians from all parties what people care about.

1ST ISSUE RATING What are the most important issues for you when deciding who to vote for in a federal election? Choose your top three.

PERSONAL MOTIVATIONS

Many issues are important when we vote. For me, climate change is urgent, and I'm keen to get your views on this.

I'm volunteering today because I think we should protect our planet and the people we love. I care a lot about this because... (share your personal motivation)

Why do you care about stopping climate damage? Listen, reflect back...

CAUSES & SOLUTIONS

Burning coal is the worst cause of climate damage. It heats our planet and harms people. Corporate giant Adani wants to dig a huge new coal mine in Queensland.

But solutions are here, now. Energy experts say Australia can be powered with 100% clean energy.

Can you guess how many years they say it could take?

Multiple studies, like the Repower Australia Plan, say it's possible to repower Australia with 100% clean energy in just 12 years! We just need governments to back clean energy, not coal.

COLLECTIVE ACTION & STRATEGY

I'm one of thousands of volunteers out having conversations. We've had 118,000 conversations, and we're aiming for one million before the next election.

When citizens get active, what type of things do you think can make a difference?

- | | |
|---|---|
| <input type="checkbox"/> Huge petitions | <input type="checkbox"/> Lots of people who are willing to vote on the issue |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Media and social media talking about the issue | <input type="checkbox"/> Members of Parliament feeling pressure from constituents |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Active local community groups and volunteers | <input type="checkbox"/> Big rallies or marches |

People power can solve this. People worked together to abolish slavery, win votes for women, and stop apartheid.

7 in 10 people we speak with in this area say they'll vote for a party that will end coal and switch to clean energy. We can elect leaders who will act for us – not the coal mining industry.

VOTE COMMITMENT We are a growing movement of over half a million people with the Australian Conservation Foundation in Carlton, Victoria (or West End, Queensland) Kelly O'Shanassy is the CEO and she's authorised this survey.

So we can tell parties and local candidates how many people care, will you sign this vote commitment petition to let them know:

If you want my vote, you must act to:

- stop Adani's polluting mine
- end digging and burning coal
- switch to 100% clean energy
