

What is Slack?

Slack is a messaging app and communication tool for teams. It will help you stay in touch with people in your local community, see what other local action networks are planning and get support directly from ACF volunteers.

Don't worry if Slack is new to you – you'll get the hang of it the more you use it.

Why use Slack?

- Connect with the ACF Community
- Get the latest news and updates
- Connect with ACF staff
- Reduce your email count

Ways to use the ACF Community Channel

- Get advice from other groups
- Share success stories from your group
- Ask ACF staff questions
- Post photos from your group's efforts

Ways to use your group's Channel

- Promote upcoming meetings and events
- Group discussion
- Post photos
- Share meeting minutes
- Follow-up with group members
- Make group decisions on Slack

Slack Tips

- Download the Slack apps for desktop and mobile. Adjust notifications
- Walk through how to use Slack at your next group meeting
- Ask open-ended questions in Slack channels to promote discussion
- Tag people using @theirname
- Check out this Guide to Slack that Tony from ACF Community Higgins put together

Super proud of ACF Community Darebin (aka ACAFACA) holding their first stall today at Preston market! Recycling some reef props from the ACF office, plus borrowed a table full of crocheted coral, and made some coral from foam too! They're collecting petitions asking David Feeney to show he's serious about stopping Adani. They chose the market as it sits on the political divide between ALP and Greens constituencies in the electorate. Excellent work and very inspiring!

@here Hi all,

Thanks for everyone who could make our meeting tonight, very productive! Highlights:
We are holding our first event! Footscray Library, Monday, 20 November at 6:15pm a film screening with Q&A.
We will also line up the next action so we can promote it at this event.
Our next meeting to finalize details of the film screening will be at Chris's house (thanks):
Wednesday 15 November 7:00, 2/106 Paisley Street, Footscray VIC 3011.
