

Central Texas Interfaith

"Let justice pour down like waters"Amos 5:24

1301 S. IH 35, Suite 201

Austin, Texas 78741

For Immediate Release – 06.07.2021

Contact – Monique Vasquez 520.248.8853

Central Texas Interfaith statement on City funding to address Rental Assistance and Homelessness

For the past several years, the Clergy and Leaders of Central Texas Interfaith have fought for comprehensive solutions to reduce and prevent homelessness.

This is an unprecedented time and many Austinites are deeply feeling the economic effects of the COVID-19 Pandemic. Through no fault of their own, many individuals and families are now facing eviction as a result of lost wages and other hardships related to the pandemic. This is, indeed, a rainy day.

For this reason we strongly support:

- The previous staff recommendation and the Mayor's current recommendation to use $20 million of the city's reserve fund for rental assistance.
- The use of a significant portion of the stimulus dollars to reduce homelessness.

If the Council found enough money to double the Homestead Exemption, certainly there is enough money to help renters at risk of becoming homeless and those who are already homeless.

Central Texas Interfaith is a non-partisan, multi-ethnic, multi-issue coalition of 50 religious congregations, schools, unions, and civil organizations who work together to address public issues that affect the well being of families and neighborhoods in our community. <https://www.austininterfaith.org>

Central Texas Interfaith

"Let justice pour down like waters"Amos 5:24

1301 S. IH 35, Suite 201

Austin, Texas 78741

For Immediate Release - 06.07.2021 Contact - Monique Vasquez 520.248.8853

Central Texas Interfaith statement on City funding to address Rental

Assistance and Homelessness

For the past several years, the Clergy and Leaders of Central Texas Interfaith have fought for comprehensive solutions to reduce and prevent homelessness.

This is an unprecedented time and many Austinites are deeply feeling the economic effects of the COVID-19 Pandemic. Through no fault of their own, many individuals and families are now facing eviction as a result of lost wages and other hardships related to the pandemic. This is indeed, a rainy day.

For this reason we strongly support: • The previous staff recommendation and the Mayor's current recommendation to use $20 million of the city's reserve fund for rental assistance. • The use of a significant portion of the stimulus dollars to reduce homelessness.

If the Council found enough money to double the Homestead Exemption, certainly there is enough money to help renters at risk of becoming homeless and those who are already homeless.

Central Texas Interfaith is a non-partisan, multi-ethnic, multi-issue coalition of 50 religious congregations, schools, unions, and civil organizations who work together to address public issues that affect the well being of families and neighborhoods in our community. <https://www.austininterfaith.org>