

On May 9th vote for

Better Health Care

Years of provincial cuts have brought public health care to a breaking point - people struggle to find a family doctor, private for-profit clinics are taking advantage of people in pain and 9 in 10 residential care facilities are understaffed.

It doesn't have to be this way. If enough of us commit to vote for public health care, we can make sure improving care is a priority during and after the election.
