Come hear the latest news from the Winter Board Meeting of the California GOP from our Regional Vice Chair of the GOP, Sue Caro, on what happened and what the strategy is going forward.

Sue was elected as the California Republican Party Vice Chairman, Bay Area Region, which represents six counties surrounding the SF Bay on the CAGOP board, in February 2017. Prior to that, she served as Executive Campaign Assistant to the Duf Sundheim for U.S. Senate campaign. Before retiring to volunteer for the GOP, Sue had held professional positions in business as Director of Business Management of a private school, as a real estate broker and manager, and as a Certified Financial Planner with a national accounting firm. Her previous professional experience is invaluable in guiding the operations and strategy of the party.

Now that we've wrung our hands and cried about the mid-term election results in California, it's time for Republican Women Federated to learn what we can do to move the Republican party forward in the golden state to restore its luster!
