It's called backbone, and when it comes to ending the sewer fee...

*Chris Shoffner has it.
Tom Ormosi doesn't.*

B&W_2015370

On September 8th, Councilwoman Chris Shoffner wanted to discuss finally ending the sewer fee in South Bound Brook. Tom Ormosi refused to even debate it.*

Councilwoman Shoffner has consistently been working on solutions to problems with our sewers like upgrading the ancient sewer lines, addressing the infiltration problems, and making the major utility companies fix damages caused by them.

Working hand-in-hand with the Department of Public Works, Councilwoman Shoffner sent cameras down the lines to find problems that need to be corrected. But her greatest push has been to end the sewer fee entirely, which Tom Ormosi and the Republicans on Borough Council have refused to even debate.

Chris Shoffner's team will make the hard votes:

*Factcheck: South Bound Brook Council meeting, Sept. 8, 2015.

“We need to have a real look at ending the sewer fees in South Bound Brook. There are numbers there to support it, but there is only one way to have that honest discussion - voting for me and my team on November 3rd.”
- Councilwoman Chris Shoffner for Mayor
