5. CRITICAL THINKING

Global sustainability issues are complex, and considering different points of view can give us a stronger understanding in order to change for the better.

Critical Reflections

To avoid plagiarism, write your answers IN YOUR OWN WORDS.

5.1 a) Social movements are capable of transforming society. Do you believe that the environmental social movement is helping to change society for the better? Why?

b) What role do you see yourself playing in this movement? Why?

5.2 “Stakeholders” are individuals or groups (companies, communities, etc.) who have concerns or could be impacted by an issue. Please list some of the stakeholders that could be impacted if the political participation and active citizenship of youth is limited. Include a few natural world participants, such as animals, plants, ecosystems, etc.

Costs & Benefits

5.3 What if people (including me) chose to practice active citizenship?
What would the costs and benefits be? Label costs C and benefits B.

1. To me, personally (health, knowledge, values, etc.)

2. Environmentally (plants, animals, ecosystems, locally to globally)

3. Socially (people and communities, locally to globally)

4. Economically (financial systems, companies and governments, locally to globally)

- 5.5 What if I were to practice active citizenship? What exactly would this action involve (e.g. research, time, connecting with others, something I'd need to stop doing, etc.)?
List at least 3 specific examples.
