The state of California currently has unfair representation of rural areas. Those that live in less than 1/3 of the land mass tell the other 2/3rds how they should live. Regardless of lines drawn, this will not be remedied until every county is represented by one state senator, not by population. Until that occurs, California is a lost cause and will forever be a majority rule state and should remove Republic from their name.

Nothing but the facts. State of Jefferson or BUST!!
