Message Body:

Until there is a national fair redistricting law passed having a California redistricting commission is incredibly unfair to the majority. Considering there is no longer a Republican Party but instead an autocratic movement that uses that name, it's actually irresponsible to make rules for a majority Democratic Party state that will not be followed in places like Texas. We are actually making things more and more unfair with this commission and helping the country along to one-party rule system. Please do not draw up maps that give "Republicans" more seats in the US house. That party no longer believes in democracy, as in they are no longer willing to admit election loss, and we are about to see how that plays out in the coming election cycles. Thank you.
