When the 7th Congressional District was redrawn 10 years ago, the north east portion of the current district was removed from its historical association with other neighborhoods in Placer County. Instead, it was connected to areas as far south as Elk Grove. The populations and political beliefs of these two areas are quite distinct and differ significantly. I encourage the current commission to rethink what has happened to voters in the northeast section of this Congressional District as the lines are redrawn.

Thank you for your consideration.
