November 1984
As amended September 1997
As amended March 2004

Objective:

The purpose of this policy is to detail the circumstances, conditions and the process under which CEIU may fund or reimburse the costs of legal assistance to individual members.

The Union shall pay up to five thousand ($5,000) of the legal fees of a legal counsellor. In all cases, the authority and responsibility for the approval of legal assistance requiring the expenditure of CEIU funds, rests solely with the National President.

1. Circumstances:

- 1.1 When a member is required to appear before or be interviewed in connection with a judicial, investigative, or other inquest or inquiry; or
- 1.2 When a member issued or threatened with a suit; or
- 1.3 When a member is charged or likely to be charged with an offence; or
- 1.4 When a member is faced with other circumstances that are sufficiently serious as to require legal assistance; and the Crown declines to indemnify or provide legal assistance pursuant to the Policy on the Indemnification of and Legal Assistance for Crown Servants; or the requirement for legal assistance arises out of a member's performance of their duties as a union representative.

- 1.5 When a member is suspended from duty or terminated.

2. Conditions:

- 2.1 The member must be a member in good standing.
- 2.2 The need for legal assistance must arise as a result of a job related matter or activity.
- 2.3 The member must have acted honestly and without malice within their scope of duties or employment.

- 2.4 The member must first have exhausted the procedures available to him or her under the Collective Agreement, the Public Service Staff Relations Act and/or other pertinent legislation such as the Canadian Human Rights Act, etc.
- 2.5 The member must first have requested and been denied legal assistance by the Public Service Alliance of Canada.

3. Process:

Members seeking legal assistance from the union must:

- 3.1 Make request and obtain approval from the union before initiating independent legal action.
- 3.2 Provide a clear and comprehensive rationale for the request supported by appropriate documentation.
- 3.3 Provide written agreement to seek judgment in respect of costs and repay any amounts expended on their behalf should cost be rewarded by the Court or assumed/reimbursed by the Employer.

CEIU POLICY 3
ADMINISTRATIVE INVESTIGATIONS

*October 1985
As amended September 2004
As amended March 2005
As amended March 2021*

ADVICE TO FOLLOW FOR MEMBERS AND UNION REPRESENTATIVES

INTRODUCTION

The advice provided in this policy is applicable not only to members who are the object of an administrative investigation, and to their representatives, but also to members and their representatives who might be called upon as witnesses in these investigations.

1. When a member is convened by the employer at an administrative investigation or a fact-finding meeting:

1. Always demand that the notification be made in writing and for what purpose; as for the contents of this notification, refer to Section 3 of this policy.
2. Immediately contact your local union.
3. If there is no local union or union representative, here are the alternatives available:

contact the CEIU Regional Union Office

contact a district union representative, or a national vice-president

NOTE: If the member does not wish to be represented by their union representative they can hire a lawyer of their choice; please note, however, that this option—involves legal costs which will be the responsibility of the PERSON who chooses this option

4. Never follow up on a notification from the employer and never speak to management or the person or persons assigned to hold the interview before having received the vital advice, either from the union, or the lawyer chosen.
5. Article 17.02 of the PA collective agreement determines the minimum notice to receive such notification, and this will allow the member to contact their local union.

6. Never give in or accept to be threatened by anyone. You have the legal and absolute right to protect yourself; never meet with the person or persons assigned to hold the interview or management without your representative.
7. Never give in to intimidation and never sign a statement without first receiving the vital advice.

2. Basis for the Administrative Investigations

You have to know that the government institution has a disciplinary authority with respect to its employees and that, with regard to the application of justified disciplinary action; the body has power of investigation under Sections 7 and 11 of the Financial Administration Act.

3. The Letter of Notification - Its Contents

3.1 Notification of the Person with Respect to Whom the Administrative Investigation Is Held

This document must specify:

1. The right of the person under investigation to be represented by his/her union, by a lawyer or another person of his/her choice, as an indispensable condition for the holding of the interview;
2. A clear and precise description of the allegations for which the person is summoned. In order to avoid “fishing sessions”, it is important that the allegations are clear and precise.
3. The name of the person or persons that will be conducting the investigation interview, including their titles and roles;
4. As the case may be, it must indicate that disciplinary action may be taken following the testimony received during this interview;
5. The date, place and time of the interview. Demand that the employer allow the time required for the member to properly prepare for the interview with their representative.

3.2 Notification of a Member as Witness in an Administrative Investigation or Fact-Finding Meeting

1. Proceed along the same steps as those indicated in section 1 of this policy;

2. The letter of notification must also indicate the right to representation, the description of the allegations for which the person is being summoned and the name or names of the person(s) that will be conducting the investigative interview.

3.3 Important Comments

1. The employer, through the person or persons assigned to hold the interview can compel the presence of the person under investigation, or a witness. HOWEVER, the testimony of those persons must be VOLUNTARY. No threat made by anyone can force them to do it.
2. No one is required to incriminate himself/herself or a colleague; too often, the employer is looking for his proof through interviews, 'fishing sessions'.

4. Advice for the Representatives of the Person under Investigation, or Witnesses

1. Ensure that the items contained in section 3 of this policy are met.
2. Make sure you always know where the member's file is as part of the employer's disciplinary process. Some departments use a pattern of internal procedure when allegations of wrongdoing and/or for the process of dealing with cases of breaches of the Code of Values and Ethics.
3. At the interview, exercise your right to question and cross examine all the witnesses, if deemed appropriate. Do not allow the employer to confine the union representative in an observer role with no right to speak. The union representative may speak at any time but may not answer on behalf of the person being interviewed.
4. Take notes of the testimonies gathered during the interviews. Any audio and/or video recording made during the interview must be made by mutual agreement even before it starts.
5. Advise the person convened as to whether he/she must answer or not answer each question; review carefully with him/her the scope of each question; at the interview, if necessary, ask for adjournment. In order to properly advise the interviewee or to clarify what they want to say in order to properly assess the scope of their answers.

POLICY 3

6. Demand from the person or persons that will conduct the interview all the time deemed necessary so that the member convened can better prepare themselves with their representative..
7. Ensure that the person or persons that will conduct the interview remains within the allegations described in the notification and that it complies with the time limits of the interview. Prevent the committee from asking suggestive questions, and from gathering evidence of hearsay.
8. Carefully advise the person convened never to meet with the employer without the presence of his/her representative being present and to never sign a document provided by the employer without informing his/her representative of the existence of such a document.
9. The representative should never meet with management or with the person or persons that will conduct the interview without the presence of the member called as a witness or who is under investigation.
10. Carefully establish with management and the person or persons that will conduct the interview that the participation of the person under investigation, or of a witness, depends strictly on the conditions outlined in this policy.
11. The union representative may, at any time, ask the National Union Representatives (NURs) at the Regional Union Office for technical assistance and advice. If there is any doubt, as to what action to take, contact the CEIU Regional Union Office. Assistance will be provided at all times.
12. Demand that the employer provide the union representative with the list of all present and future witnesses in the matter as well as the notes taken when they testified. Notify the employer that the union reserves the right to examine or cross-examine all witnesses if it feels that this is required.
13. National Union Representatives may call upon the CEIU National Vice-President(s) for political involvement, as required, in this type of case.
14. The union representative shall urge the member or witnesses to request a full copy of the investigation report and findings at the earliest possible date.
15. The member shall be accompanied by a union representative when receiving the investigation findings or at any future meeting, disciplinary or other, with the employer.

CONCLUSION

CEIU does not endorse fraud nor approve abuse or conflicts of interest in any way.

However, CEIU shall accompany members who so request while they are being subjected to such investigations or to reprisals by the employer.

CEIU shall carry out an in-depth analysis of the investigation file and of the employer's evidence in order to represent the member being imposed disciplinary or administrative action.

Where the wrongdoing is excessively serious, the PSAC bargaining agent shall not be able to support the case, and CEIU shall have to take this into account in its analysis.

Where the investigation involves several members, the employer shall notify the union that meetings are to be held soon, so that CEIU may prepare to assign representatives. The employer is not required to provide the names under the Access to Information Act.

Investigations shall be an item on the agenda of general membership meetings so that the general membership is informed of the position of CEIU. A copy of this policy shall be provided to each member and posted on the union bulletin board.

It is obvious that the Union does not endorse the holding of administrative investigations for several reasons. We refuse to cooperate in building up proof against one of our members. In the past, the employer abused this authority at our members' expense. No member is forced to incriminate him/herself, and furthermore, NO MEMBER MUST DENOUNCE ANOTHER MEMBER. For those reasons, administrative investigations must be abolished, and we must all work together towards that end.

The objective of this policy is to remove one of the barriers which prevent members from participating in CEIU national union activities.

The Family Care Policy is intended to assist the member in covering additional fees incurred as a direct result of attending an authorized CEIU national union activity.

To achieve a maximum amount of flexibility, every effort will be made to provide on-site childcare where Early Childhood Educated (ECE) or certified caregivers are available for hire. When on-site childcare is provided, caregivers will be made available for evening sessions that form part of the schedule of events.

CEIU POLICY 5
STAFFING WITHIN THE FEDERAL PUBLIC SERVICE
As amended October 2017

Introduction

Job opportunities, career advancement and job security are amongst the most important benefits arising from employment. The present legislative system governing staffing in the federal public service does not fully recognize these benefits and must be revised to include provisions allowing for the staffing process to be negotiable and be part of the collective agreement.

While the Public Service Employment Act (PSEA) appears to support the principles of merit and non-partisanship, our members' experience is frequently characterized by unjust discretionary power on behalf of the employer, a lack of recognition, lack of respect for seniority, favouritism and abuse of process. The employer often uses their discretionary power in ways that prevent the advancement of our member's careers and undermines their employment security.

CEIU must work in conjunction with the PSAC to limit the discretion of management with retrospect to appointment and promotion by ensuring that vacancies are filled in accordance with specified procedures which fairly consider the bona fide occupational requirements of the position and which give credit to seniority and length of service.

CEIU is responsible to ensure that our members' job security and career advancement opportunities are protected and improved. Through collective bargaining, consultation, lobbying, communication, education, pursuing formal recourse and other mechanisms, CEIU will work to protect and improve our member's access to these benefits.

Objectives

Through collective bargaining, consultation, lobbying, communication, education, formal recourse and other mechanisms, CEIU will:

- work to improve and protect our members' job security, access to job opportunities, and career advancement;
- make efforts to ensure fairness, transparency, consistency and equity in selection processes and appointments;
- participate fully in any campaigns designed to improve legislative frameworks, policies and practices for staffing in the federal public service;
- support the principles of seniority being tied to career advancement and job security;
- represent our members in informal and formal recourse processes, including grievances and complaint processes, to the fullest;
- oppose any efforts to contract out the work of our members; and

- strive to empower our members through communication, consultation and education.

Principles:

The CEIU actively supports the following principles on behalf of its members;

1. Seniority

- 1.1. Job opportunities career advancement and job security must be tied to seniority.
- 1.2. The employer should acknowledge that job security and advancement opportunities should increase proportionally to increases in service and seniority.

2. Equity / Accessibility

- 2.1. The employer must actively eliminate barriers in selection processes and ensure that all CEIU members have access to opportunities and benefits.
- 2.2. The employer must make appointments in accordance with applicable Human Rights and Employment Equity legislation.
- 2.3. Bias and favoritism must not be factors in selection processes and appointments.
- 2.4. Non-advertised appointments must be denounced.

*Because of the act, the Employer MUST (therefore the word must is used here)

3. Work of the Bargaining Unit

- 3.1. The union shall denounce the use of casuals or other non-bargaining agent employees who were hired to do work normally done by members of the bargaining unit.
- 3.2. Any violation of this principle shall be reported by the Local President to their National Vice Presidents. NVP's shall report the violation to the National President.
- 3.3. Any violation of this principle shall be denounced at all level of union management structure.

4. Contracting Out / Privatization

- 4.1. CEIU will actively oppose any attempt to contract out or privatize the work of our members.
- 4.2. All members, CEIU officers and staff must remain vigilant in their opposition to contracting out initiatives.
- 4.3. Any violation of this principle shall be reported by the Local President to the NVP. NVP's shall report the violation to the National President.

- 4.4 Any violation of this principle shall be denounced at all level of union management structure.
- 4.5 Pertinent information and rationale should be forwarded to the PSAC for possible recourse.

5. Statement of Qualifications

- 5.1 Statement of qualifications will be uniform. If it is a national generic position, the statement of qualifications will be the same throughout the country. If it is a position that exists in a region, the statement of qualifications will be the same throughout the region. The statement of qualifications must be prepared in an objective manner so as not to be favourable to any one candidate.
- 5.2 Restrictions with regard to basic requirements must be kept to a minimum in accordance with the selection standards.

6. Notice and Information Sharing

- 6.1 Notices of selection processes, vacancies and appointments shall be available to all employees, including those on leave, in a timely fashion and on a continuous basis.
- 6.2 Notices of selection processes, vacancies and appointments should be circulated to the union both locally and nationally to facilitate transparency.
- 6.3 Tools that would enhance candidates' success in a selection process, including sample questions and tests, should be widely available to allow candidates to prepare thoroughly for available positions.
- 6.4 Management must* provide every employee or his/her representative all of the documentation relevant to allow for the preparation of a grievance, a complaint or other formal recourse process.
- 6.5 Staffing will be a permanent item on the agenda at all level of union management meetings, where management will provide information and meaningful consultation on all current staffing of term positions, casual positions, acting assignment as well as long term leave. The union could then ask questions and express their concerns.

*Because of the act, the Employer MUST (therefore the word must is used here)

7. Selection Processes

- 7.1 Selection processes should be transparent and equitable.
- 7.2 The use of non-advertised processes should be denounced including student bridging.
- 7.3 All CEIU members should receive training from the employer on how to access, participate and be successful in selection processes.

- 7.4 Assessment tools should only assess the required level of competence to demonstrate ability to do the job. Demonstrated competencies and knowledge should be considered when such competence exists.
- 7.5 Assessment tools should be administered as part of the employees' regular working day and should include a reasonable amount of preparation time, including internal staffing competitions.
- 7.6 "Best fit" criteria inserted in the process should be eliminated or severely limited.
- 7.7 Selection boards should be objective and impartial. They must be composed of members from outside the office in question. Only persons who have received training in the Selection Board process should be appointed to sit on such Boards.
- 7.8 Selection board members should remain consistent throughout the process (ex. same board members throughout the whole selection process)
- 7.9 Employees shall have the right to be equally and fairly assessed in the language of their choice.

8. Term Employment I Temporary Vacancies

- 8.1 The use of term employees must be limited. Wherever possible, indeterminate appointments are preferred. Term employees must automatically become indeterminate employees in an acceptable time-frame.
- 8.2 The use of casual employees must be limited. Wherever possible term or indeterminate appointments are preferred.
- 8.3 Long-term temporary or acting vacancies are not in the interests of CEIU members, their employers, or the Canadian public. Whenever possible, vacancies should be filled on a permanent basis. Repeated vacancies of a temporary nature should be scrutinized with a view to filling the position on a permanent basis.
- 8.4. When it becomes necessary for additional staff to be appointed for specific periods of time, the acting appointment process should be utilized to fill such positions.
- 8.5. Whenever possible acting positions should be rotated through a pool of qualified candidates to ensure that all eligible staff has an equitable opportunity to demonstrate and acquire skills except in rare and exceptional circumstances.
- 8.6 All such positions shall be filled internally, and employees appointed to such acting positions shall maintain their full right to their substantive positions which will also be filled on an acting basis, where necessary. Acting appointments should be shared when there is more than one qualified.

9. Training | Education

- 9.1. All CEIU members should receive effective training from the employer on how to access, participate in and be successful in selection processes.
- 9.2. All CEIU members should be able to participate in employer- sponsored language training in one of the two official languages to improve service to Canadians and to enhance job security and advancement opportunities.
- 9.3. Developmental opportunities and learning opportunities should be offered to all employees within the area of selection in an equitable way.
- 9.4. Members of selection boards must receive training in their responsibilities prior to taking on their duties.

10. Qualified Candidates

- 10.1 The employer should maintain pools of qualified candidates to fill projected indeterminate positions, temporary requirements, acting appointments, etc. Candidates for these should be drawn from those pools. Furthermore the employer should exhaust existing pools of qualified candidates, starting with the oldest one on file.
- 10.2 Non advertised selection processes are not a substitute for a fair process and contain inherent bias and inequities.
- 10.3 The employer should not limit to 16 kilometers of the substantive position an assignment to a temporary or term position of the same level or of a higher level.
- 10.4 The employer shall maintain the pools of qualified candidates who have demonstrated that they have qualified in the competencies, skills and abilities they were assessed against, also taking into consideration the length of service and the seniority from the pools of qualified candidates. This demonstration of qualifications should exempt the employee having to re-qualify in the same competencies in a subsequent selection processes.
- 10.5 In the event of lay-offs or workforce adjustment, the employer must recognize the principle of seniority so that the least senior employee is laid off or affected and senior employees who meet threshold occupational requirements are retained.

- c) The General/PSAC Resolutions Committee

- 2.2 Each of the Committees, as listed in 2.1 above, shall be comprised of two (2) co-chairs, who are National Vice-Presidents, as well as one (1) member for each of the eight (8) regions, for a total of 10 members for each of the Resolutions Committee.
- 2.3 All delegates to the CEIU Convention, from electoral districts, or from the HRRR Committee shall be considered to sit on the Convention Resolutions Committee for their respective region.
- 2.4 The NVP(s) for the respective regions will select from amongst their list of delegates, one (1) member for each of the three (3) committees.
- 2.5 Should there not be an equity and/or gender balance on one (1) or more of the Convention Resolutions Committees, the NVP for Human Rights and the NVPs for Women's Issues may put one (1) additional name forward as an equity seat on the respective committee(s).

3. PROCEDURES AT CONVENTION

3.1 Role of Alternates

If the delegate wishes to share his/her credential, it is possible. However, the following criteria will apply:

- 3.1.1 It must be for a minimum period of 1 day.
- 3.1.2 It must be cleared by the Credentials Committee 1/2 hour prior to the morning commencement of the Convention.
- 3.1.3 The alternate must be on the official list of delegates and alternates, and he/she should represent, wherever possible, the district which the delegate represents. There can be no floating alternate.
- 3.1.4 Once the alternate has replaced a delegate, that person cannot represent another district for the duration of the Convention.
- 3.1.5 Notwithstanding 2.1.4 above, in an emergency situation (i.e. illness of delegate), the Credentials Committee may, in consultation with the National President and the NVP(s) for the Region, allow that alternate status as a delegate in their own or another district.
- 3.1.6 The alternate cannot replace a delegate without authorization given in person or in writing by that delegate to the Credentials Committee. In the extreme case where this is not possible, written authorization from the NVP(s) of the region will be acceptable.

3.1.7 It shall be the responsibility of the alternate to return the duplicate credential to the Credentials Committee upon the completion of his/her term of replacement.

3.2 In the event that no alternate to a delegate is available to fill a vacant delegate position during Convention, the caucus of the Region of the absent delegate may elect a replacement from amongst the available alternates present at the Convention. Should the region choose not to replace their alternate, then that entitlement shall pass to the region coming closer to obtaining a delegate position if they have an alternate present. This process shall apply to the next region in descending order if no delegate was present.

3.3 Special Alternates for Delegates with Disabilities

For duly elected delegates who have self-identified as a person with disabilities prior to convention, special arrangements may be made for those alternates present to be available for a portion of each session to reduce the strain of long days and allow more participation by delegates who have difficulty dealing with the physical demands of convention participation.

3.3.1 A single alternate will be allowed to share the delegate's status of a person with disabilities where circumstances warrant it. That designated alternate will be chosen following the procedures outlined in section 2.1.3 of this policy OR by election by the regional caucus involved from among the regional alternates.

3.3.2 This arrangement for delegates with disabilities will be made in such a way that it covers the entire convention and does not require complicated or lengthy renewal each day or for each separate session.

3.3.3 Arrangements will be made with the Credentials Committee at the beginning of the convention that will allow the delegate with disabilities to use the designated alternate once during each sitting of the convention. This means that a delegate with disabilities would be allowed to leave the floor and return once for a rest break during each morning, afternoon and evening session.

3.3.4 The exchange of credentials will be done by the Credentials Committee.

3.3.5 Only one person of the pair (delegate with disabilities and designated alternate) shall be on the floor at one time. A single-shared credential would guarantee that only one of the pair would be on the floor at any one time.

3.3.6 It will be the responsibility of the delegate with disabilities and designated alternate together to present themselves to the Credentials Committee for each credential exchange.

3.4 Alternates for National Vice-Presidents with Disabilities

3.4.1 Alternate National Vice-Presidents are the only persons authorized to replace National Vice-Presidents at Convention

3.4.2 Should the Alternate National Vice-President already be at Convention as a delegate in his/her own right, the arrangements outlined in 2.2 above shall be applied to the situation to create designated delegate status for the Alternate NVP while he/she is substituting for the NVP with disabilities. Three (3) people would thus be involved in each credential exchange but it would also ensure that it was always the same three people.

3.4.3 Attendance by the Alternate NVP will be covered by CEIU Policy 10 - Special Needs Care.

3.5 Role of Observers

3.5.1 In accordance with By-law 11.13, any member in good standing may attend the Convention as an observer; however, the member shall not have the right to vote or participate in the debate.

3.5.2 Only accredited delegates and authorized members of the CEIU staff are permitted on the convention floor during the business sessions.

PSAC CONVENTION

Same as above, with the exception of Section 3.1.

CEIU POLICY STATEMENT 15
WOMEN AND VIOLENCE

August 1993

We, the members of CEIU, adopt the principle of zero tolerance with respect to any form of violence against women.

We denounce violence against children or against any other group subjected to discrimination, for example: the elderly, persons with disabilities, immigrants, aboriginals, lesbians, visible minorities.

We recognize that violence against women affects their security and their dignity, and that women's rights include protection against any form of violence.

Statistics show that 85% of acts of violence are committed by men. We therefore demand that men recognize their behaviour and assume collective responsibility for such behaviour.

CEIU must undertake immediate measures with governments to ensure that violence against women will always be considered as a serious criminal act. These acts should lead to charges and severe minimum penal sentences. These sentences must be supported by an adequate and compulsory rehabilitation program.

We, the members of CEIU, demand the implementation of comprehensive preventative education and training, programs on matters dealing with violence against women. Only a better understanding of the problem of violence in society, the workplace, the union, the family and against children and all groups facing discrimination, will lead to the elimination of violence.

CEIU will undertake to support and work in conjunction with agencies or associations who work against all forms of violence.

CEIU shall demand that the Employer provide quality of work life and a safe workplace by protecting workers against any form of violence.

CEIU recognizes the existence of all forms of violence against women in the Union environment, and adopt the principle of zero tolerance. Furthermore, it will provide the necessary resources for an efficient intervention as required.

CEIU will stop fighting the day all women can live without fear and in full security.

CEIU POLICY STATEMENT 16
WOMEN'S ECONOMIC INDEPENDENCE

*August 1993
As amended March 2005*

The women of CEIU are working class, immigrants, disabled women, older women, younger women, lesbians, francophones, anglophones and allophones. They are of all races and ethnic backgrounds, but most importantly, they are women.

CEIU is committed to achieving economic equality through economic stability by recognizing the value of the work women do, whether paid or unpaid.

CEIU opposes the barriers of: classism, racism, sexism, homophobia, ageism, ablism that prevent women from participating fully and equally in their homes, at the workplace, in the Union and society.

CEIU will no longer accept the subjugation of women by acts of violence such as: sexual, racial, physical, verbal, emotional and economic violence.

CEIU will not tolerate oppressive government policies that undermine and destroy the universality of Canada's social programs.

CEIU will not accept any kind of exploitation of our sisters around the world in the name of profit and power.

CEIU will continue to work towards the establishment of a national child-care program and a place for children in the Union.

CEIU will accept no less than women taking their rightful place in society as they define it, both in the public and private spheres, and will achieve this by building solidarity amongst women individually, collectively and through coalitions.

CEIU recognizes women's struggles and integrates women's issues as worker issues and will forcefully pursue the achievement of Women's Economic Independence.

CEIU must reaffirm its commitment to establishing safe places for women in the Union.

IN CONCLUSION: CEIU supports education, independence equality and economic stability that lead to self-esteem and pride that releases women from generations of oppression.

CEIU POLICY 17
TELEWORK

February 15, 1996

The Union introduces this policy to provide a guideline for all members before entering into a telework agreement with the employer.

The Union recognizes the dangers inherent in teleworking and recommends that members be cautious in entering any agreement until the member has been informed of the pros and cons of teleworking.

At no time should any agreement be entered into without proper representation/consultation from the Union.

OBJECTIVES:

1. Telework must be voluntary.
2. Telework arrangements must not contravene the existing Collective Agreement and teleworkers must remain members of their respective bargaining unit and enjoy all rights of members in good standing.
3. The teleworker will retain his/her current employee status and all terms and conditions of employment in force prior to the signing of this agreement will remain unchanged (i.e. pay, leave, overtime, benefits, etc.) The established procedures related to all terms and conditions will remain unchanged as well, unless otherwise indicated.
4. Telework must not be done on a full-time basis, and teleworkers must be guaranteed office space at their workplace, e.g. one day in the office per pay period.
5. Telework must not be used by management as a long-term solution to health and safety problems, nor shall it be used by management to avoid its responsibility to provide and maintain a quality, safe and health workplace.
6. Telework arrangements must not result in piece rates, contracting, or secondment, etc., being introduced as a method of salary payments.
7. Productivity expectations for all workers, shall be the same whether teleworking or not, levels must not be increased. Monitoring performance evaluations can only be done in the same manner and standard as in the workplace. No electronic monitoring.
8. Hours of work for telework must follow a consistent pattern that maintains similarity with the type of hours expected of non-teleworking members, respects the integrity of the core hours, flex hours and the collective agreement language.

9. All overtime work must be authorized in advance, and remuneration provided as outlined in the Collective Agreement.
10. Members are still entitled to all benefits. Members shall take leave when necessary such as medical and dental appointments, sick leave, etc.
11. Management shall cover all costs of the telework agreement, including equipment, furniture, insurance, lighting, heat, etc. Such equipment shall conform with the Canada Labour Code.
12. Training:
 - (a) The employer is responsible to provide training on teleworking, and to fully explain implications of working away from the office.
 - (b) The employer must train all managers and supervisors on how to supervise teleworkers. The Union shall provide input on the above-noted training.
 - (c) The employer must provide joint Union/Management training on health and safety, WCB, security, WHMIS, specifically relating to telework.
13. A description of all activities required to be performed at home, within/according to the members' job description/classification levels (i.e., levels will be provided to the teleworker).
14. It is the members' or their representatives' responsibility to report immediately to their supervisors and health and safety chairs, any accidents or injuries. The employer shall observe its responsibility to contact immediately the appropriate WCB.
15. Members at the Central Office shall not be refused leave due to operational requirements due to teleworking (i.e., no person left to cover operations due to shortage of staff).
16. Members must be informed by the employer, in a timely manner, of any training or staff meetings, so that the member has the opportunity to attend.
17. The employer shall ensure that the teleworker receives all the same information as the employees who are not teleworking, especially, although not exclusively, in the context of competitions and promotion opportunities.
18. In the event of a strike, this agreement will immediately cease to apply and any equipment lent to the teleworker will be recovered by the employer at its expense.

POLICY 17

19. The employer shall provide the teleworker with the means that will enable him/her to protect the confidentiality of information and records in his/her possession. The filing cabinet shall be considered to be the sole and official repository of Federal Government information subject to access and privacy legislation.
20. The employer shall provide the Union with a copy of each signed protocol.
21. Members must have the right to terminate the agreement at any time.

CEIU POLICY STATEMENT 21
CONTRACTING-OUT AND PRIVATIZATION

*November 1996
As amended March 2002
As amended May 2007*

Over the last decade, our membership has severely declined, largely due to the Federal government's on-going practice of contracting-out a number of key services to their corporate friends in the private sector.

The CEIU embraces the value of good public services and therefore, remains determined to fight all forms of outsourcing of public services – from rehiring retired workers as casuals, to devolving our work to other levels of government.

CEIU opposes all forms of public/private partnership (P3) which:

- Threatens our members' job security, undermines our negotiating powers, exploits workers, and threatens working conditions.
- For the public at large, means poorer quality service, limited access, and absolutely no accountability to the taxpayers, and is not proven to be cost efficient;
- For the local economy, it means fewer good paying jobs, more user fees and fewer local benefits by outsourcing to outside communities.

For a number of years, the CEIU has been persistent in denouncing the practice of contracting-out and privatization, particularly as it impacted on our members' work; however, the issue continues to escalate as our right-wing governments promote and praise the use of public-private partnerships.

To do nothing more is not an option...making this issue relevant for all CEIU members is crucial to their job security.

In random order, CEIU's goal is to:

- Declare this issue an on-going No. 1 priority;
- Promote the need for this issue to be of prime concern in bargaining rounds;
- Educate the membership and motivate them to be alert and proactive on this issue;
- Formulate specific strategies and tactics at the local level to fight all forms of contracting out within the workplace;

POLICY 21

- Publicly promote the value of public services to the communities (efficiency, accountability, etc.);
- Coalesce with like-minded groups (CLC, PSAC, Federations of Labour; Labour Councils, etc.) by creating common fronts at the local, regional and national levels;
- Publicly oppose all forms of contracting-out federal services to the private sector;
- Take advantage of every opportunity to expose the shocking truths about privatizing our public services – tell all regarding who benefits, and at whose expense;
- Demand that management notify the union when and where federal services are delivered by individuals other than federal government employees;
- Monitor record and publicize situations (wins and losses) as we learn of them.

CEIU members are a vital part of a large effective, productive system of public services. It is crucial to stop the dismantling of this system, and to focus on having work returned in-house via “contracting-in” the delivery of services which have already been lost through P3 arrangements.

CEIU POLICY STATEMENT 22
EXPANSION OF DUTIES

November 1996

We, the members of CEIU, recognize that the phenomenon of the expansion of duties, followed by the creation of new positions, will affect the majority of CEIU members.

We demand that CEIU denounce this phenomenon by publishing information bulletins.

CEIU must demand that the employer undertake:

- To provide training consistently and adapted to all incumbents;
- To respect the principles of equity and uniformity in staffing new positions, by transferring the incumbents of positions affected by the expansion of duties;
- To show openness and flexibility in the application of work plans for a better quality of life and work for CEIU members.

CEIU POLICY 24
RESTRUCTURING AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF LOCALS

September, 1998

As amended March 2000

As amended March 2004

As amended September 2012

As amended October 2017

As amended April 2021

1. PREAMBLE

In accordance with CEIU By-Law 8, the National Executive has the authority to charter Locals, when requested by members; it also has the authority to amend, revoke or withdraw such charter when it is in the best interest of the members and the Union to do so.

A Local's jurisdiction is based on the application for charter which lists the work location(s) of the members involved. The CEIU undertakes to respect and protect the established jurisdiction of every other local. However, when there are major reorganizations and restructuring within the Department(s), certain local jurisdictions are no longer viable and thus should be restructured in order to allow better 'groupings' and better representation of the members. Decisions to restructure must be in accordance with Local By-Law 9.1, which states that the Local's executive must be composed of at least 3 members.

Restructuring may be in the form of: merging one or more Locals, dissolution of Locals, transferring of members from one local to another due to departmental reorganization/restructuring, creation of new Locals, etc.

Local By-Law 9 – Local Executive, which forms part of CEIU Regulation 22, states that the Executive of a local shall consist of an elected President, and at least one Vice-President, and either a Secretary-Treasurer or a Secretary and a Treasurer.

2. PRINCIPLES

In accordance with CEIU By-Law 8, the National Executive also has the authority to amend, revoke or withdraw any local's charter when it is in the best interest of the members and the Union to do so, however the following principles should apply:

- a) The proposal to merge or restructure Locals is by decision of the members concerned and should be completed within a period of one year from the date the decision to merge or restructure, taken by the members, either by petition or by holding a meeting, is taken.

POLICY 24

- b) Proposed local restructures must be agreeable to 2/3 of the members for each of the locals involved that are in attendance at the meeting, or by 2/3 of the members of both or all locals involved, and which is received by petition.
- c) If a proposed restructure cannot be agreed upon, a dispute settlement procedure, including a possible referendum process, shall be put into place.
- d) Proposals for local restructures are presented to the National Office through the responsible NVP(s). In the case of IRB and IRCC locals, there will be consultation with the respective IRB and IRCC National Vice-Presidents.
- e) The National Office must receive all pertinent information (correspondence between locals, etc.) before the National Executive can make a decision.
- f) The National Executive shall make decisions which are in the best interest of the members and the Union.
- g) Decisions by the National Executive on any local restructuring shall be made in a timely manner.
- h) The local funds of restructured locals will be divided on a pro-rata basis. The number of members on the last membership list of the month prior to the restructuring for that local will be the number used to make the division of monies. These amounts will be allocated to the new local(s) and/or to the remaining local(s).
- i) Locals shall not exhaust their monies in anticipation of a dissolution or merger. All monies shall be allocated to the receiving local(s) on a pro-rata basis.

3. CLOSING OF OFFICES

- 3.1 When an office closes and the 'local' no longer exists, members shall immediately be transferred to the Local(s) to which they would now belong.
- 3.2 The charter of the defunct local shall subsequently be formally withdrawn by the National Executive

4. VOLUNTARY MERGING OF TWO (2) OR MORE LOCALS

- 4.1 Should two (2) or more Locals agree to merge, a request must be submitted to the NVP(s), and the request must be accompanied by:
- (a) A statement that the members concerned have agreed to merge, either in the form of a petition by 2/3 of the members, or in the form of a resolution adopted at a general membership meeting; and
 - (b) A statement from the receiving Local, either in the form of a petition by 2/3 of the members, or in the form of a resolution adopted at a general membership meeting, that 2/3 of the members present have agreed to accept the new members; and
 - (c) Up-to-date financial statements from all the locals involved
- 4.2 Upon recommendation of the NVP(s) and the approval of the National Executive, the charter shall then be amended to reflect the Local's new jurisdiction.
- 4.3 All Locals' funds shall be combined when local merge. Locals shall not exhaust their monies in anticipation of a dissolution or merger. All monies shall be allocated to the receiving local(s) on a pro-rata basis.

5. LOCALS WITH MULTIPLE SITES

Many locals consist of multiple sites; while the CEIU attempts to respect and protect the established jurisdictions of these Locals, it must ensure that the jurisdiction is viable and that the 'grouping' of the members is the most favourable it can be. 6.1 below would apply.

6. TRANSFERRING OF MEMBERS DUE TO DEPARTMENTAL REORGANIZATION OR RESTRUCTURING

CEIU attempts to respect and protect the established jurisdictions of locals, however, due to departmental reorganization or restructuring, certain local jurisdictions are or will no longer be viable and thus should be restructured in order to allow better 'groupings' and better representation of the members. The following shall therefore apply.

POLICY 24

- 6.1 Should members and/or even a complete local's membership be transferred due to a departmental reorganization or restructuring, where there is already a Local in place, then normally the members and/or even the complete Local's membership shall fall under that Local's jurisdiction.
- 6.2 Should members and/or the complete local's membership not wish to join or merge with the Local already in place, then the NVP shall assist the members that have transferred to ask if they wish to remain within their own Local or ask for a new charter under CEIU By-Law 8. However, the reasoning for the local's wishes to remain within their own local instead of merging with the local already on site or asking for a new charter under CEIU By-Law 8 must be made in writing and agreed to by 2/3 of all transferred members. The reasoning must be based on facts and must be to the benefit of all the members that would be affected by the transfer, and not just a few of the members affected.
- 6.3 Transition measures for members that are in the midst of transferring (ex: building being renovated, etc.) that the local remain status quo until such time as the full transfer of the local is done at which time a special meeting of the membership shall be held to elect the executive.
- 6.4 Should there not be agreement, then the dispute settlement procedure outlined in section 7 of this policy shall apply.
- 6.5 The local funds of restructured locals will be divided on a pro-rata basis. The number of members on the last membership list of the month prior to the restructuring for that local will be the number used to make the division of monies. These amounts will be allocated to the new local(s) and/or to the remaining local(s).
- 6.6 Locals shall not exhaust their monies in anticipation of a dissolution or merger. All monies shall be allocated to the receiving local(s) on a pro-rata basis.

7. DISPUTES

- 7.1 In the event of a dispute between Locals, the NVP(s) shall endeavour by consultation with the designated officers of the Locals involved in the dispute, to settle the matter by voluntary agreement.

POLICY 24

- 7.2 If no voluntary agreement is reached, the NVP(s) shall conduct a referendum vote of the members concerned within sixty (60) days of the failure to reach agreement.
- 7.3 The results of the referendum vote shall be binding.
- 7.4 In the event of non-resolution from the referendum vote, the NVP(s) will submit recommendations to the National Executive for necessary action.
- 7.5 No transfer of members shall take place from the moment the dispute has been declared to the time it is resolved.

8. LOCALS IN TRUSTEESHIP

In the case of Locals under trusteeship, and where restructuring is necessary as a result of reorganization, the following options may apply:

- 8.1 Where the Local has indicated it agrees to merge with another Local, the procedure outlined in section 4 of this policy shall apply.
- 8.2 Where the Local has failed to address the issue, then the trustees shall have the right to recommend assignment to another Local(s), provided that the members have been so notified beforehand (through the convening of a special meeting) and that the trustees are satisfied that the Local is still not prepared to administer their own affairs. Such recommendation shall be submitted to the NVP(s) who shall then present it to the National Executive for necessary action.

9. LOCAL FUNDS

- 9.1 All Local funds shall be divided and/or combined on a pro-rata basis when Locals merge, reorganize or when members transfer from one local to another because of departmental reorganization or restructuring. This division or combination of money would provide immediate access to any support and representation needed.
- 9.2 In the case of Locals under trusteeship, the release of the Local funds shall first be authorized by the National Executive.
- 9.3 Locals shall not exhaust their monies in anticipation of a dissolution or merger. All monies shall be allocated to the receiving Local(s) on a pro-rata basis.

POLICY 24

- 9.4 In the event of a dispute as mentioned in Section 7, and in order to ensure that the funds are eventually divided on a pro-rata basis, access to existing local funds shall be frozen and local rebate cheques withheld until settlement has been reached.
- 9.5 In the event that a Local does not provide their audited financial statements for two (2) consecutive years, the Local's bank account will be frozen. Following receipt of the financial statement(s), all funds withheld will be remitted to the Local.
- 9.6 Inappropriate use of local funds and/or anything that goes against CRA regulations is not permitted.

10. 6-MONTH RULE

- 10.1 The 6-month rule applies to any member of a local who is in an acting assignment longer than 6 months.
- 10.2 Any member, who has accepted an acting assignment that is not with the same local as the member's previous local, must after 6-months, be transferred to that local where the acting assignment is part of.
- 10.3 Any member, who was on an acting appointment for longer than 6-months and who was transferred to that local because of the 6-month rule, and who now returns to their previous position, once that assignment is completed, would return to the local they belonged to before their acting assignment.
- 10.4 The Local President of the Local must advise their respective CEIU Regional Union Office of any acting assignment that is more than 6-months so that they are transferred to that local, should it not be the same local number as they belong to prior to the assignment.

CEIU POLICY 25
USE OF ELECTRONIC NETWORKS FOR UNION BUSINESS

*March 2000
As amended March 2004*

The term "electronic networks" refers to both Internet and E-mail networks. This policy should be considered as an evolving document that may change as electronic network use, legislation and union policies evolve.

The CEIU has actively pursued making advanced technology and increased access to information available to the CEIU members. Availability of information on the CEIU internet website and e-mail distribution of information promotes the timely dissemination of that information. Benefits to the Union include reduced postage and paper costs.

PURPOSE

The purpose of electronic networks is to facilitate communications in support of the CEIU goals, principles, and business. This policy provides guidelines with respect to responsibilities and usage of electronic networks for union communications and business, and to ensure its use is effective and recognizes trade union principles.

GENERAL PRINCIPLES

The CEIU will make available and distribute its information and communications by electronic networks whenever possible.

Locals are encouraged to utilize the CEIU website as their source for information. Locals may request to continue to receive their information by mail.

The CEIU encourages and promotes the use of home internet and e-mail access for union information, communication, and business. (For additional information, Locals should contact their National Vice-President(s)).

Individuals have an obligation to use electronic networks for union communication and business in a responsible and informed way, and according to the principles set out in this policy.

CEIU WEBSITE

The CEIU shall have its own website and shall post on it, in both official languages, all "general distribution" information (i.e. bulletins, minutes of meetings, etc.), except sensitive information such as financial statements, membership lists, personal information, etc.

Links to other websites on the CEIU National website must receive prior written approval from the CEIU National President.

POLICY 25

Those requesting a link on the CEIU National Website must demonstrate that the link is compatible with the overall objectives of the CEIU, and that the linked website is not for personal, political reasons, or CEIU elections (refer to CEIU Policy #18).

Those requesting that the CEIU create a link to their website may be required to sign a statement agreeing to certain rules of usage and content.

E-MAIL

The CEIU encourages and promotes the use of home E-mail accounts for union communications and business.

Responsibilities (Documents regarding etiquette are available on the CEIU website)

Individuals have a responsibility to follow proper etiquette: be polite; use appropriate language; and not swear, use vulgarities, or any other inappropriate language.

Unacceptable Use

Do not use electronic networks to send communications that include:

- Any content that is offensive or defamatory, or which is intended to annoy, harass, or intimidate another person
- Any content that is fraudulent
- Indecent remarks, proposals or materials
- Threatening or violent behaviour
- Commercial messages

Individuals using E-mail systems for union communications and business must not engage in any activity which could be considered an offense against the CEIU National By-laws, as listed in By-law 10.3.

Computer Viruses

Computer viruses are much easier to prevent than to cure – Install and maintain appropriate anti-virus software on your computer(s) and run a virus scan on a regular basis.

CEIU POLICY 26
FUNDING MEMBERS TO ATTEND CONFERENCES

March 2001

As amended September 2003

Quite often, members of CEIU express a wish to attend various conferences sponsored by CEIU, PSAC, coalition partners, or other labour organizations (CLC, FOL, etc.). These conferences may be held within or outside their area of work, and costs are involved; CEIU is then asked to finance their expenses. While CEIU as an organization supports and encourages such participation, the financial implications must also be considered and thus the following will apply:

1. Requests for Funding

- 1.1 Requests must be submitted in writing to the National President and National Executive Vice-President no later than four (4) weeks prior to the event.

2. Criteria

- 2.1 The person making the request for funding must be a member in good standing of CEIU.
- 2.2 The member must demonstrate that attendance would be beneficial either to himself/herself as a union activist, to other members, or to the CEIU.
- 2.3 The member must provide a breakdown of estimated expenses.
- 2.4 CEIU is the funder of last resort. The member must demonstrate that a request for alternate funding was made, to whom, and how much funding was received.
- 2.5 The member must commit to provide a written report to the CEIU following the conference.

3. Financial Considerations

- 3.1 In deciding whether financing will be granted, CEIU will consider:
 - (a) Availability of Funds
 - (b) Whether the request meets the criteria
 - (c) Financial impact on the organization
 - (d) If requested by a member who has requested such funding in the past, whether the individual has fulfilled his/her commitment to provide reports

- 3.2 Financing will be provided in the following order of priority:
- Canadian Labour Congress
 - Public Service Alliance of Canada
 - Federation of Labour
 - Coalition Partners
 - Other
 - Canada Employment and Immigration Union

CEIU POLICY STATEMENT 27
INVESTMENTS

*November 2001
As amended March 2002
As amended October 2019*

1. INVESTMENT PORTFOLIO

CEIU will have the net value of its investment portfolio determined at the end of each fiscal year.

2. INVESTMENT OBJECTIVES

The main investment objective of CEIU is to generate revenue while maintaining capital.

3. PORTFOLIO OBJECTIVES

3.1 Liquidity:

The liquidity of a portfolio is the part which is kept in the form of liquid or near-liquid assets such as Treasury bills or money market securities. The level of liquidity of the CEIU portfolio will depend on its investment objectives and the current economic and financial conditions.

3.2 Stock and capital growth:

CEIU prefers to invest in income stock since it can raise the average growth of its capital.

4. RISK PROFILE

4.1 Risk and return:

There is a proportional relationship between risk and return. Knowing this, CEIU is willing to accept low returns in order to maintain a low level of risk.

4.2 Volatility:

In the short term, markets are volatile and stock prices fluctuate. All markets and all investments, from government bonds to shares, may see prices rise and fall. CEIU prefers low volatility and wishes that its portfolio be managed accordingly.

4.3 Capital risk:

In the management of a portfolio, a specific stock may be sold because its perspectives have changed. This phenomenon, called capital risk, is an integral part of the investment process.

However, CEIU indicates that its tolerance for capital risk is quite low.

4.4 Investment risk:

The quality and size of companies in which we invest affect the risk and the potential return of our investments. In general, large, well-established corporations yield moderate returns over the long term and present moderate levels of risk.

Conversely, smaller, less well-established corporations may generate high returns but also present much higher risk levels. That is the investment risk principle.

Knowing this, CEIU specifies that it wishes to invest essentially in well-established companies.

5. INVESTMENT CONSTRAINTS

5.1 Investment restrictions:

CEIU prefers to exclude the following sectors or types of investments: alcohol, tobacco, child labour, armament, businesses and countries with a history of human rights violations.

6. DESIRED INVESTMENT STRATEGY

6.1 Income strategy:

In view of its investment objectives, of its risk tolerance and of the other parameters contained in its investment policy, CEIU wishes to use an income-based strategy.

An income-based strategy is essentially designed to generate income while preserving capital. CEIU's return on capital will therefore be mainly drawn from fixed-interest securities and high-dividend shares. Since this is a prudent approach, CEIU will be entitled to expect lower than average risk levels and volatility.

7. SERVICES EXPECTED FROM THE COMPANY ACTING AS FINANCIAL ADVISOR

7.1 CEIU expects the company acting as financial advisor to provide full record-keeping services related to CEIU's portfolio. Our Director of Finance and Administration will make sure that said company meets all the financial requirements of CEIU and answers all its questions. CEIU will also be provided with the following documents:

7.1.1 Account statements:

Detailed statements will be provided to the CEIU National Office each month. They will include a current investment assessment detailing the cost of securities and their current value. The statements will also include a record of transactions.

7.1.2 Performance reports:

CEIU will receive a quarterly performance report showing the performance of its portfolio over the quarter as well as the current economic context.

7.1.3. Bilingual communications:

In deference to its bilingual nature, CEIU will be entitled to expect that the Company acting as custodian commit to comply with the Official Languages Act in all its dealings and written communications with CEIU.

CEIU POLICY 30
DUTY TO ACCOMMODATE

*March 2006
As amended May 2007
As amended March 2021*

GUIDE FOR MEMBERS AND REPRESENTATIVES

The information provided in this guide is designed to enable the reader to better understand the meaning of the duty to accommodate and to indicate to members and union representatives the legal responsibilities of each of the parties involved, i.e., the employer, the union, and the employee.

This document is for all workplaces and telework (at home or in another location).

1. ORIGINS

Firstly, here are a few explanations on the origins of the duty to accommodate.

The duty to accommodate is rooted in the Canadian Charter of Rights and Liberties, which guarantees rights such as:

- fundamental rights and liberties
- right to equality
- political rights
- legal rights
- economic and social rights

Prohibition of discrimination is the cornerstone of the duty to accommodate.

Section 15(1) of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms protects equality rights independently of any discrimination, including that based on race, national or ethnic origin, colour, religion, gender, age or mental or physical disability.

The Canadian Human Rights Act was introduced in 1977 to protect, amongst other people, workers employed by the federal government. Workers can protect themselves by introducing a complaint involving allegations based on one or more grounds for discrimination as specified by the Act.

It is noteworthy that the grounds of discrimination have evolved with Canadian more over the years and it is beneficial for anyone protected by the Act to keep tabs on these societal evolutions.

The Canadian Human Rights Act recognizes, in Section 3(1), that the prohibited grounds of discrimination include race, national or ethnic origin, colour, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, marital status, family status, genetic characteristics, disability and conviction for an offence for which a pardon has been granted or in respect of which a record suspension has been ordered.

According to that Act, it must be specified:

- That discrimination based on pregnancy or childbirth is discrimination on the ground of sex.
- That physical or mental disability includes dependence on alcohol or a drug.
- That the Canadian Human Rights Act also ensures that all persons have a chance to work and live free of discrimination. Thus, harassment based on one of the prohibited grounds of discrimination described in the Act is also prohibited.

What matters is the effect of the discrimination and not the intent to discriminate.

2. OBLIGATIONS

Secondly, the obligations of the parties involved, i.e., the employer, the union, and the employee, must be considered.

2.1 Key Principles Underlying the Duty to Accommodate

The duty to accommodate requires that the employer act in a proactive way, i.e., that the employer make significant efforts to help the employee who requires accommodation.

The duty to accommodate takes into account the fact that it may be impossible for an employee to perform all the duties of his or her position.

It is incumbent upon the employer to take accommodation measures.

Good faith or good intentions cannot counter a determination of discrimination. Neither can a neutral policy.

2.2 Obligations of the Employer

In order to meet its obligations of reasonable accommodation, the employer shall:

- Ensure employees are aware of their right to accommodation, explain details about the workplace accommodation policy, and distribute copies of the policy.
- Take an active role in exploring alternative approaches and solutions to accommodate the employee.
- Make sure to fully understand the limitations and difficulties of the employee.
- Attempt to find solutions and explore the various accommodation options, ensuring that each individual request is considered on a case-by-case basis, without reference to what has worked or not worked in other cases in the past, and without prejudice to what might be appropriate in future cases.
- Keep information/medical records confidential.
- Grant accommodation requests in a timely, reasonable manner, to the point of undue hardship.
- Not fall back on a possibility which has proven unacceptable or impracticable
- Make real efforts to accommodate the employee and take into account the real hardship felt in each of the situations considered.
- Be willing to review and modify the accommodation agreement if the circumstances change or the solution is no longer working.
- Advise employees about their right to appeal and their right to approach the CHRC.

- Explore all possible compromise solutions and demonstrate, as needed, that they impose undue hardship.

When the employer does not meet its reasonable accommodation obligations, it may be ordered to pay moral and exemplary damages.

2.3 Liability of the Union

The union which initiates or contributes to a discriminatory effect incurs responsibility. Should the union share responsibility for the discrimination with the employer, it also shares the duty to take reasonable measures to eliminate or reduce the cause of the discriminatory effect.

Human rights protection appears in section 15 of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms which is part of the Constitution Act. Being itself part of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms; the highest law of Canadian society, it is imperative that union interventions in that regard be exemplary. The union has the duty to be proactive and ensure that a higher degree of due diligence is applied at all times for matters pertaining to human rights cases. In short, the union needs to strive to anticipate, prevent, to intervene and to eliminate discrimination in the workplace to the highest extent of its capabilities.

Here are a few examples when a union might be found liable for its actions:

- Taking part in the writing of a policy having a discriminatory effect.
- Refusing to deal with the limitations by hindering the efforts made by the employer and/or the employee to reach an agreement.
- Demanding full compliance with a collective agreement including a discriminatory rule or impeding the efforts made by the employer to eliminate or mitigate the effect of that rule.

In short, the union is required by law not to be part of a discriminatory act. The union's responsibility is to cooperate and collaborate in order to find innovative ways to eliminate and/or minimize the discriminatory effects of functional limitations but is not responsible to find a cure to the disability. Like the employer, the union may be ordered to pay moral and exemplary damages.

The courts have made it clear that unions are required to support accommodation measures regardless of what has been specified in collective agreements. In other words, unions cannot block a viable accommodation option, such as a transfer to another position, because it may violate the terms of a collective agreement; in fact, a union can, be held liable if it hinders such efforts to accommodate.

However, collective agreement provisions are to be respected. Supervisors are obligated first to explore the accommodation options that will not interfere with rights and entitlements provided under collective agreements.

2.4 Obligations of the Employee

- The employee must make his or her needs known by requesting that accommodation measures be taken by the employer and proposing, if possible, the type of measures which he or she finds appropriate.
- The employee must offer his or her full cooperation in the search for an acceptable compromise.
- The employee has an obligation to consider, to a reasonable extent, the offers made in order to accommodate him or her.
- Advise the employer of changes in accommodation needs.

The employee is in no way required to accept an accommodation offer which would impose undue hardship upon him or her.

3. ACCOMMODATION MEASURES

Thirdly, concrete examples must be provided of the accommodation measures that you may refer to according to the situation of the member involved.

Here are a few examples:

- Temporary assignment to other duties
- Progressive return to work
- Part-time position
- Workstation accommodation

- Work performance assistance
- Modified duties
- Adapted work schedule
- Assignment to another available position
- Entering on a recall list
- Acceptance of temporary absences from work

4. UNDUE HARDSHIP

Fourthly, undue hardship must be considered.

The burden of proof of the undue nature of the accommodation considered or proposed rests upon the employer. One should refer to section 15 (2) of the Canadian Human Rights Act that expresses the following as such:

Health

Safety

Excessive financial cost (Note: jurisprudence has proven that this is not applicable for the federal government)

5. PROCESS

Fifthly, advice should be given to representatives on the steps to be followed with respect to the duty to accommodate.

As soon as a discriminatory situation related to the aforementioned elements is identified, your role is to act to eliminate all forms of discrimination.

Generally, the process is as follows, although the specific situation must be taken into account:

1. Meet with the member one-on-one and be receptive to his or her situation.
2. Determine with the member whether there is a possibility that discrimination exists and what measures the union may take to influence the employer.

POLICY 30

3. Prepare the union position and the medical certificates containing functional limitations, to be submitted to the employer. It could prove beneficial to provide the employer with the functional limitations at first. Request that the employer initiate the exercise of assessing possible accommodations.
4. Schedule a meeting with the employer, in the company of the member if possible. Go over the limitations noted by the member's physician and present the union's accommodation ideas. Organic communication will need to be established as all parties will benefit from a mutual acknowledgement and understanding of the limitations at hand. N.B. The employer might request additional information clarifying the limitations. Negotiate with the employer the feasibility of the accommodation measures suggested by both parties.
6. Agree on a timeframe for the implementation of the agreed measures.
7. Follow-up on the implementation of the measures.
8. If no agreement is possible with the employer, a discrimination grievance may be filed based on failure to provide reasonable accommodation to the individual.

Always remember that the time limits provided for in the collective agreement for the filing of a grievance must be complied with, otherwise the grievance might be considered untimely.

Whenever one of the above prohibited grounds of discrimination is invoked in a grievance, the Canadian Human Rights Commission must be notified. A form is provided for this purpose.

The union is required by law to suggest and have the employer take accommodation measures, whether it be at the local, regional, or national level.

The CEIU Regional Union Offices may provide assistance in this type of situation.

CEIU POLICY 32
UNJUST PROFILING

Adopted at the March 2011 National Executive meeting

(A Statement can be found as Appendix "B" to these policies)

Discriminatory and unjust profiling is any action with respect to a person or group of persons, for reasons of safety, security, or public order, that is based on actual or presumed membership in a group which could include but is not limited to age, race, colour, gender identity or expression, genetic characteristics, appearances, ethnic or national origin, place of origin or residence, religion, language, social condition, class, sexual orientation, disability, political beliefs, or criminal history, without factual grounds or reasonable suspicion, that results in the person or group being exposed to differential treatment or scrutiny.

Racial profiling, in particular, includes any action or measure that is applied in a disproportionate way to certain segments of the population on the basis of their racial, ethnic, national or religious background, whether actual or presumed.

CEIU believes that equality is an integral part of our union's vision. Its priority is to ensure that our members are not engaging, participating, or being exposed to any types of unjust profiling whether in the union, in the workplace, in public and private services, and in our society.

As a progressive membership-based organization and agent of social change, it is CEIU's responsibility to respond to cases involving unjust profiling that affect or impact all of our members. This includes participation in union events (such as courses, conferences, and meetings), as well as in individual interaction (such as representation on grievances and in discussions about union matters).

CEIU's mandate is to ensure that its members, both individually and collectively, are treated with respect in the workplace. In order to accomplish this, CEIU will work with its membership in order to eliminate unjust profiling.

As CEIU fights all forms of discrimination wherever they might appear, CEIU and its membership will actively promote fundamental human rights of all individuals and ensure that our society is inclusive, representative and barrier-free from all types of unjust profiling and discrimination.

CEIU recognizes that unjust profiling differs from criminal profiling, the latter being based on objective, real and detailed information to identify a person or group of persons who may have been involved in a criminal activity. Criminal profiling becomes discriminatory or unjust when race or other personal characteristics are used as a proxy for the general criminal propensity of that entire group.

POLICY 32

CEIU recognizes the human and social costs of unjust profiling on individuals and their families, organizations and society as a whole as these discriminatory practices negatively impact peoples dignity, self-worth, their sense of full belonging and citizenship and ultimately social cohesion. In short, unjust profiling challenges fundamental Canadian values of equality and diversity.

CEIU POLICY 33
SERVICES OFFERED AT CEIU NATIONAL EVENTS
FOR MEMBERS with DISABILITIES

Enacted September 21, 2019

(FOR MEMBERS with DISABILITIES WHO HAVE SELF-IDENTIFIED WITH CEIU)

The objective of this policy is to remove the barriers which prevent Members with Disabilities from participating fully in their Union activities.

The Union is committed to planning and conducting accessible meetings, regardless of its size (training, conference, etc.,) and to accommodate the accessibility needs of the participant(s), when these needs have been identified and requested.

Accessible unionized hotel and meeting space

Any unionized hotel chosen for the Union's event(s) must be accessible. A site visit will be conducted by a trained accommodation specialist before booking a venue to ensure that any potential challenges to accessibility will be addressed, such as the following:

- Meeting rooms large enough to accommodate wheelchairs, scooters and/or service animals
- Accessible entrances
- Accessible washrooms
- Braille, raised numerals or audio announcing the floors in the elevators
- Ramps and/or elevators
- Accessible parking spots
- Accessible hotel rooms, with accessible showers, etc.,

Accessibility request for accommodation

Member must identify their accessibility needs by the deadline date to request certain types of accessibility supports so that the Union has enough time to acquire them. Example of these would be:

- Sign Language Interpreters
- Assistive listening devices
- Real-time captioning
- Described video (audio description of what appears on a screen)
- Personal support person
- Special dietary and allergy requirements
- Accessible room accommodation

POLICY 33

- Room accommodation - Free from scent/chemical fragrance like toiletries, etc.

The Union will try to accommodate any last-minute or on-the spot accessibility requests. However, when these cannot be met, the Union will work with the participant to find a temporary and respectful solution.

The Union will ensure the National Human Rights/Race Relations Committee is part of any changes, deletions or additions to this Policy in order to provide the Committee the opportunity of raising any concerns on behalf of the Members with Disabilities.

CEIU STATEMENT ON HARASSMENT
From the PSAC Statement on Harassment

This statement is to be read out at all CEIU events

Our union is made strong by Sisters and Brothers working together to improve our working lives and to preserve the rights that we have struggled to achieve. Mutual respect is the cornerstone of this cooperation. The CEIU By-Laws states that every member is entitled to be free from discrimination and harassment, both in the union and at the workplace, on the basis of age, sex, colour, national or ethnic origin, race, religion, marital status, criminal record, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, language, class or political belief. Members are also entitled to be free from personal harassment.

If you experience harassment at this event, contact the identified Anti-Harassment Resource Person to discuss the situation and possible responses. Our initial approach is to encourage early and informal resolution and to facilitate our members speaking directly with one another to resolve the matter. If this is not successful or possible, the By-Laws and policy mandated on the issue of harassment will be full and quickly enforced.

Harassment in all its forms, detracts from our common purpose and weakens our union. Let each one of us, as we work together on the important task at hand, treat each other with dignity and respect.

CEIU STATEMENT ON UNJUST PROFILING
(Excerpt from the CEIU Policy 32 on Unjust Profiling)

This statement is to be read at all CEIU events

Discriminatory and unjust profiling is any action with respect to a person or group of persons, for reasons of safety, security, or public order, that is based on actual or presumed membership in a group which could include but is not limited to age, race, colour, gender identity or expression, genetic characteristics, appearances, ethnic or national origin, place of origin or residence, religion, language, social condition, class, sexual orientation, disability, political beliefs, or criminal history, without factual grounds or reasonable suspicion, that results in the person or group being exposed to differential treatment or scrutiny.

CEIU recognizes the human and social cost of unjust profiling on the individuals, their families, the organizations and society as a whole because discriminatory practice negatively impacts the people’s dignity, self-worth, the sense of full belonging and citizenship and ultimately social cohesion. In short, unjust profiling, challenges fundamental Canadian values of equality and diversity.
