

#CEIU16Days of Activism

Against Gender-Based Violence

More than three decades and how far have we come? It is now over 30 years since the tragedy that killed 14 women on December 6, 1989 at École Polytechnique in Montréal.

We are currently living through an Epidemic within a Pandemic: Gender Based Violence - Covid-19 has left many victims of intimate partner violence trapped with their abusers. This year, for the National Day of Remembrance and Action on Violence Against Women, the CEIU National Women's Committee challenges you to take part in the 16 days of remembrance and activism. There is still so much work to do!

Join us on November 25, participate and share these important actions on social media.

November 25

Be an ally!

November 26

Learn and share hand signals for help

November 27

Ask for domestic violence training in your workplace from your CEIU Regional Women's Committee

November 28

Participate in the White Ribbon Campaign

November 29

Speak out and challenge sexist, racist and other problematic language when you hear it

November 30

Watch the film Polytechnique

December 1

Educate yourself and others about consent

December 2

Promote www.timeforchildcare.ca to ensure economic stability for women

December 3

Lobby your political representative about strengthening gun control

December 4

Work to ensure diverse voices are included wherever decisions are being made

December 5

Read the Action Plan on Indigenous Women, Girls, and Gender-Diverse People

December 6

Attend a virtual vigil for The National Day of Remembrance and Action on Violence Against Women

December 7

Lobby your political representative for increased funding for women's organizations. If you can donate to a Women's Shelter.

December 8

Support organizations related to gender-based violence

December 9

Learn about the Moosehide campaign

December 10

Human Rights Day. EQUALITY - Reducing inequalities, advancing human rights

