National Capital Region (NCR)

OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH & SAFETY (OHS) COMMITTEE

Role & Responsibilities

The responsibility of this committee is to conduct and evaluate a survey of the membership's training needs with regards to OHS and develop an action plan to meet those needs during this term. They are also responsible for staying current on the Canada Labour Code Part II, as well as changes to the National Joint Council on OSH policy. Members of this committee may be called upon to assist with members in the BC/YT region wishing to receive advice on OHS committees/information.

Currently, the NCR does not have an OHS Committee.
