Lay Movements Use OJA Method to Transform Society

On July 6-8, 2018, at Mount St. Joseph College, in Cincinnati, OH, National Board members John and Lauri Przybysz and Brian and Mary Ann Thelen

represented CFM at a conference of all the movements that have their roots in the teaching of

Cardinal Joseph Cardijn. Scholars and leaders from the US, Australia, Africa, South America were there. Past Presidents, Paul and Jane Leingang also attended. CFM-USA was a Silver Sponsor of the conference.

Cardijn's method of looking around at the social reality, reaching conclusions about what the Gospel has to say about it, and then putting those conclusions into practice has informed the thought of Pope Francis since his years in Latin America. and we see echoes of Observe, Judge, Act in “Laudato Si”, on the Care for Our Common Home,” as well as in the methods of the recent Synods on the Family.

The Thelens and Przybyszs presented a workshop experience of a CFM meeting, using one of the chapters from our new book, Embracing the Mission, which features the teaching of Cardinal Cardijn. Lauri presented a paper on how CFM continues the work of Cardinal Cardijn today. Read the paper here. All the talks were recorded and the conference proceedings will be published this fall.

The other Cardijn-inspired Jocist* movements like Young Christian Workers and Young Christian Students (college and high school chapters) have faded in the US, but continue to be active in other countries, particularly Australia, South America, and Africa. (*The term "jocist" comes from the French initials of the Young Christian Workers, JOC.)

"The laity will have to come to a comprehension that our blessed Lord was not crucified in a cathedral between two candles but in the world, on a road way, in a town garbage heap, at the crossroads where there were three languages written upon the Cross.... He placed Himself at the very center of the world, in the midst of smut, thieves, soldiers and gamblers. He was there to extend pardon to them. This is the vocation of the laity: to go out into the world and make Christ known." - Venerable Fulton J. Sheen
