Flight Attendants & Air North reach tentative deal

After a week of renewed negotiations, bargaining teams representing the unionized Flight Attendants and Air North have arrived at a tentative agreement. No details will be released until members have a chance to review the document and a ratification vote has taken place.

YEU/PSAC President Steve Geick is pleased with the developments. He says “it’s taken commitment from both bargaining teams to arrive at this deal; we appreciate the amount of work that has gone into the tentative contract. There was a lot of ground to cover in a short time.”

PSAC Regional Executive Vice President for the North Jack Bourassa adds “Air North’s Flight Attendants deserve a fair deal, and it’s encouraging to see both bargaining teams come together for this tentative agreement. It forms a milestone in a long and positive relationship between Air North and its Flight Attendants.”
