

ONTARIO CHILD CARE POLICY SUMMIT 2015

September 25 - 26th, 2015

A thought-provoking forum about provincial and national child care policy organized by CUPE Ontario, the Ontario Coalition for Better Child Care, the Childcare Resource and Research Unit, the Association of Early Childhood Educators Ontario and Ryerson University, School of Early Childhood Studies.

A Child Care System for Ontario: Why we can afford it and how we can build it.

Child Care is a hot issue in the federal election. There has never been a better time to push for a quality, public child care system for Ontario. Economist Jim Stanford and sociologist/activist Susan Prentice will discuss why child care is an economic no-brainer, and how to win the child care system that Ontario families deserve.

Friday September 25th, 2015

Moving Ontario Child Care Forward: Where have we been? Where do we go?

We're bringing together a mix of academic, activist and community leaders to discuss recent changes to child care in Ontario and how to move forward together. We'll explore Ontario child care in the context of the federal election and how to take our vision of child care from dream to reality. It's about time!

Saturday September 26th, 2015
Ryerson University, POD 250
