

Flight from US to Bolivia
Santa Cruz Viru Viru International Airport (VVI)
La Paz El Alto International Airport La Paz (LPB)

We recommend you take some photos of your luggage before the initial check in. This will help in the unlikely event of a loss/misplacement/delay.

Entry requirements:

- Valid U.S. passport with at least 6 months validity remaining.
- International Certificate of Yellow Fever Vaccination
- Make sure you obtain entry and exit stamps from the Bolivian authorities every time you enter or exit Bolivia.

As of December 20, 2019, U.S. citizens no longer need a visa to enter Bolivia for tourism. Entry is granted for 30, 60, or 90 days at the discretion of the Bolivian immigration officer at the port of entry.

Visa/Immigration

While in flight, you should receive an immigration form. Fill it out before you land along with the customs form. You will receive this or a similar form from the flight attendant while on the plane. You'll need flight number (Ex: UA 1500) and your passport number. Make sure you mark tourist. Your forseen address is _____ (the other general info is self explanatory). Make sure you have this done before leaving the airplane.

Upon arrival you will exit your plane and follow the signs to the immigration and customs stands. Just follow the crowd as there is only one place for all passengers to process their visa.

When you exit the airport, you will see the CHOICE team with a banner.
