Together we are Ending Poverty
Dear Friends,

Words cannot begin to express my most heartfelt appreciation for the role you played in concluding 2014 with unprecedented success! We owe this to your belief that together WE end extreme poverty. Thank you for your continued confidence in our ability to affect change worldwide.

This growth propelled CHOICE Humanitarian onto a national platform as recently seen in Forbes and other national publications. We are now part of the global conversation on the issues that cause, and help end, extreme poverty. Our successful model is based on villagers creating their own path out of poverty. This strategy is one of empowerment, rather than robbing people of the experience of moving themselves out of poverty. With CHOICE, communities are engaged in a dignified 'learn by doing' process.

At CHOICE, we hold ourselves accountable to you, our donors. Every dollar that enters our door is precious to us. In return, we work with our in-country teams to multiply each dollar three to five times through strategic partnerships.

We are humbled by your confidence in us to make good use of precious dollars. Thank you for choosing CHOICE as the vehicle to create change. If you ever have questions or thoughts about how we conduct our business, please let me know so that I can give you my personal attention.

Warm Regards,

Leah Barker, CEO
CHOICE Humanitarian Leadership Model

We are a leadership organization that partners with rural communities around the world where villagers live on less than $1.25 a day. The CHOICE Humanitarian Leadership Model of village development empowers rural communities to create their own vision out of poverty.

Over the last 32 years, we have learned that leadership is everything. It is the difference between villages succeeding or not succeeding. It is the difference between full ownership or lack of it. Our approach integrates five core areas: economic development, health, education, environment, and culture. Projects are used as tools to organize communities and mobilize resources to create lasting change. The CHOICE approach is simple - native in-country staff mentor communities and their leaders by organizing and mobilizing them to create their own path out of poverty.

Bolivia uses simple, appropriate technologies to implement water projects.
Gender Equity
Women in impoverished communities bear almost the entire responsibility of providing the basic needs for their families, yet are largely left without resources, freedom, and decision-making power required to fulfill these needs. CHOICE is committed to programs that empower women to take an active and equal role in community-level leadership.

Village Driven Initiatives
Villages identify and manage the development process. As repairs and problems arise, villagers take the initiative to resolve them.

Build Leadership and Capacity
The key to sustainable change is building leadership within the villages.

Native In-Country Staff
Highly qualified field teams, native to the cultures where we work, understand how to teach the CHOICE Leadership Model successfully in ways relevant to their cultures.

Simple, Appropriate Technologies
All technologies can be built and sustained through locally available resources and skills.

Measurement and Evaluation
CHOICE measures the progress of villages, following them through the phases of our Leadership Model. As a result, we can ensure that the process is successful as we continue to learn and improve.

The Multiplier Effect

On each CHOICE project, your investment is multiplied 4 to 5 times. The village contributes labor and resources. The local government and partner organizations contribute additional funds, materials, training and skills. Such investments culminate in extreme efficiency and link communities to all available resources.
Economic Development
Poverty is an Economic Issue

Engaging in economic development ends extreme poverty. In 2014, an exciting new venture between CHOICE Humanitarian and doTERRA® was forged. Through this Co-Impact Sourcing Program, CHOICE has helped them enter emerging markets and introduce a new product line of cardamom oil sourced from cardamom farmers in Guatemala.

This partnership has fueled the development of Sikaab’e, our Guatemala-based agricultural and vocational school. Local growers, their families, and communities now have the opportunity to improve agricultural practices and learn new job skills. Programs offer government-endorsed certifications, giving local families improved potential for income to support their families and pull themselves out of extreme poverty.

“Global citizenship is about awareness and inclusivity; it’s about realizing that there’s more than one authentic way to live.”

Education
Relevant and Purposeful

According to the United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization (UNESCO), education that is both relevant and purposeful has the power to transform lives.

In Mexico, the Savings Box is a simple community loan program that provides education about budgets, saving money, basic needs, leadership, and economic stability. The Savings Box is a loan program where community members (the majority of whom are women) save together and borrow from their joint savings to create micro-enterprises.

With the involvement of CHOICE staff, community leadership emerges. Soon the whole community becomes involved and all members begin to invest time, labor, materials, and pesos for the collective improvement of each family.

Children in these communities are now forming their own Savings Box programs, saving funds for shoes, school supplies, and uniforms. Learning how to save is critical to breaking the cycle of extreme poverty!

“CHOICE helped us develop a platform by which we could develop our village.”

Risi Ram Ghimire
Village Leader

Savings Box Program

- 18 communities involved
- 369 members in program
- $6,600 amount of money saved
Health

Creating The Desire For Change

Poverty restricts access to reliable health services and information about health risks, thereby increasing the incidence of preventable diseases and death.

To address this, CHOICE launched a Community-Led Total Sanitation program (CLTS) in Kenya. CHOICE understands that merely providing toilets does not guarantee their use, nor result in improved sanitation and hygiene. CLTS focuses on the education and behavioral change needed to ensure real and sustainable improvements, investing in community mobilization instead of hardware, and shifting the focus from toilet construction for individual households to the creation of “open defecation-free” villages.

CLTS triggers the community’s desire for change, propels its residents into action, and encourages innovation, leading to greater ownership and sustainability.

Community members map out (first on the ground [image left] then on paper) latrine locations to maximize access.

Open Defecation-Free

“Even great ideas will fail unless communities and individuals choose to work for the collective good and take the lead in executing their ideas.”

Leah Barker

- 127 trained health workers
- 1,116 pit latrines built
- 46,000 people impacted
Environment
Sustainable Agriculture Preserves the Environment

According to an assessment produced by the United Nations Development Program, failure to protect environmental systems undermines much of the progress made in helping the world’s poorest communities. A sustainable environment means a sustainable human habitat.

Communities in the Polochic region of Guatemala are tackling environmental challenges head on. Deforestation in the region has caused massive landslides and loss of biodiversity. The CHOICE Guatemala team is helping farmers develop valuable knowledge and skills in the area of environmental preservation and sustainable agricultural production. Communities are planting trees, diversifying to more appropriate and sustainable crops, and revitalizing the use of heirloom seeds. Agriculture is vital for social and economic stability.

Expeditioners work with in-country staff to plant seedlings.

“If you try to put social and cultural development ahead of economic development, it doesn’t work. You have to do it all together.”

Aga Khan Philanthropist

Cultural Preservation
Cultural Preservation

The Fabric of a Community

When language or culture is lost, we lose a unique way of being. Cultural preservation recognizes the many threads of human expression: language, storytelling, song, dance, artisanship, and connection with the land. CHOICE’s native in-country teams encourage individuals to weave rich traditions and culture into the fabric of their communities. We believe that cultures must be honored as distinguishing assets among CHOICE communities, preserved for generations to come!

In the high mountains of the Altiplano, villagers continue a tradition of celebration and offerings to Pachamama, a fertility goddess who presides over planting and harvesting. This celebration takes place at the beginning of the year and is infused with a sense of gratitude and blessing for Mother Earth. Through song, dance, and visits to quinoa and potato fields, Bolivia continues to keep its cultural practices vibrant and alive.

“Sustainable development must embrace local culture, social structure, and tradition.”

Dr. James Mayfield
CHOICE Co-Founder

Bolivia In-Country Director, Willy Mendoza, and his wife celebrate Pachamama the fertility goddess.
Bringing Themselves Out of Extreme Poverty

Nepal LIFE (Local Initiative For Ending Poverty) is an initiative to end extreme poverty in a designated area that can be replicated worldwide. This initiative started with training 20 Rural Development Facilitators to help leaders in 180 villages to organize their communities to bring themselves out of extreme poverty.

Once this happens in 180 villages in this one rural district in Nepal, the Nepali government has indicated a willingness to replicate this approach in the other 74 rural districts, helping Nepal to become the first first developing country in the world to end extreme poverty.

measuring impact

Five Outcomes

COOKING
Every home will have a smoke-free kitchen through the use of biogas digesters that produce methane gas from human/animal waste, creating a safer cooking environment.

GARDEN
Every family will have a garden with a greenhouse and access to healthcare services, the combination of which will lead to improved health levels for all family members.

READING
Every adult will have basic reading, writing, and arithmetic skills, leading to improved opportunities for employment, personal growth, and business management.

SAVINGS
Every family will have a savings account and receive training in basic income-generating skills, providing more opportunity for micro-loan support and business development.

LEADERS
Individual families and appointed village leaders will magnify culturally relevant core values as they identify goals and lead families and villages on a path of self-reliance.

In 2014, 3,700 families were impacted by this program.
Philanthropy at its Best
Smiles For Life

Smiles for Life Foundation is an example of how individuals and foundations can partner with CHOICE Humanitarian to make a bigger impact in the world.

For people living in extreme poverty, access to dental care is non-existent. Children and adults are living in unnecessary pain that affects learning, working, and every other aspect of life. We are pleased to highlight the work of Dr. Roy A. Hammond and the Smiles for Life Foundation for their commitment to worldwide dental health.

“I had my first opportunity to truly sense the realities of poverty in 1987 as my wife and I volunteered in Micronesia with a small team of dentists. The very next year, we became involved with Dr. Tim Evans, co-founder of CHOICE Humanitarian.

“I now coordinate and provide leadership to teams of dentists and their families who represent Smiles for Life Foundation. Our culture of doing good is focused on creating sustainable change in underprivileged and underserved areas of the world. We are grateful for our opportunity to partner with CHOICE Humanitarian and the local dental schools in the countries and areas they serve. Through the involvement of our on-site teams and the establishment of permanent care facilities, manned by local dental students and dental care providers, we plan to change dental health awareness and access to dental care.

“Because of our partnership with CHOICE Humanitarian and the commitment of their in-country staff, we are seeing positive change and the lives of our Smiles for Life volunteers are being changed and blessed.”

Dr. Roy A. Hammond
Collaborations
Collaborations

Funding poverty is a massive effort. To accomplish our goals, CHOICE creates strategic partnerships in order to leverage each dollar raised. Below we highlight three partners that enhance our ability to multiply each dollar two to five times!

Fund Aid for Vietnam

CHOICE appreciates our longstanding relationship with T. Linh, founder of Fund Aid for Vietnam, which operates in partnership with CHOICE according to donors’ requests and/or as help is needed. Over the past ten years, with support from generous donors, Fund Aid for Vietnam has built a vocational training center in the city of Hue. Moving forward, they will provide daily milk for children at the Duc Son orphanage. Fund Aid for Vietnam has distributed thousands of school supply packages, bikes, and scholarships in the remote areas of South Vietnam. In addition, they have organized small loan projects for women and built new kindergarten/childcare centers in remote villages. CHOICE applauds the continued impact of Fund Aid for Vietnam.

First Hope

For nearly a decade, CHOICE has supported the work of Cecile Pelous, founder and advocate of First Hope, an organization created in the 1990s to support fundraising efforts for the orphanage Cecile established in Nepal. Cecile’s efforts have helped hundreds of Nepali orphans rise above their circumstances to become outstanding young men and women. For the past 20 years, Cecile has rescued children from a future of illness, starvation, and slavery. CHOICE joins Cecile in her devotion and commitment to prepare these children to be self-reliant, independent, and contributing citizens of Nepal.

Yehu Microfinance

Born out of CHOICE programs in 1999, Yehu Microfinance is one of the few programs in the world that works in rural areas where banking institutions are not accessible to the people they could most benefit. Yehu membership includes more than 37,000 Kenyans with women representing 85% of total members. Yehu’s growth is notable: the first loans awarded were for $50, and recently two $12,000 loans were awarded! Thanks to this program, more than 16,000 members have received micro-loans and families have been able to start or expand small businesses to significantly increase their income. To date, Yehu has awarded $16,000,000 in micro-loans with a 95% repayment rate.
Expeditions

The CHOICE Expeditions program is a unique way for volunteers to become intimately involved with our organization, and witness firsthand the impact of our work in Bolivia, Guatemala, Mexico, Kenya, and Nepal. In 2014, CHOICE welcomed 16 expedition groups into rural communities around the world. Participants learned about our Leadership Model of village development by working alongside villagers on essential projects they selected as their path out of poverty. Through this intercultural experience, volunteers broaden their global perspectives and come to realize that the work of CHOICE builds people, not just projects. This program continues to grow with new participants, families, and corporate partners in 2015!

Let’s End Poverty

Let’s End Poverty is a program of CHOICE Humanitarian designed for students to develop and exercise leadership skills by:

1. Organizing clothing and book drives. The donations collected are sold to local thrift stores and the proceeds are used to fund CHOICE programs.

2. Joining the 5 Quarter Campaign to end poverty. Advocates for the Let’s End Poverty program educate others about what extreme poverty looks like and encourage them to sign up to give 5 quarters a month ($1.25) to end poverty.

705 students have signed up to be an Advocate for the Let’s End Poverty Program from 7 countries with more joining every day.

Corporate Partners

The Corporate Partner Program is designed to give corporations a way to address their critical needs, such as uniting employees through meaningful giving and service, increasing employee retention, and increasing brand loyalty. Our partners choose a focus area and a fundraising goal that engages employee participation and enhances company culture. Employees are invited to participate in payroll deduction, humanitarian incentive trips, fundraising initiatives, and other team building activities throughout the year. These experiences strengthen companies by building relationships, improving employee morale, and increasing retention.

Volunteers

Our volunteer program is an essential component in our work to end extreme poverty. Volunteers contribute to our fundraisers, programs, awareness campaigns, and expeditions. We have volunteer opportunities at our headquarters and in the field (special conditions apply). Contact us if you would like to help end extreme poverty and learn about international development.

together ending extreme poverty in Bolivia, Guatemala, Kenya, Mexico, and Nepal

CHOICE is a non-profit organization with more than 30 years experience working to end poverty. We partner with rural communities where villagers live on less than $1.25 a day.

The CHOICE Leadership Model of village development empowers rural communities to create their own vision out of poverty. Our model is an integrated approach to ending poverty focusing on five core areas: Education, Health, Environment, Culture, and Economic Development. This strategy supports our unique opportunity to strengthen local leadership.
