Russell Lavis' Ultramarathon

I am running a 100K Ultramarathon to support World Vision Canada in their work to protect in West Bank and Gaza, and Jerusalem, and to facilitate education for them in these areas. Through this event I aim to illustrate that through persistence, dedication, and Fidelitas En Arduis (latin for Strength in Adversity), any obstacle or challenge can be overcome. The adversity that these children face on a day to day basis far exceeds the adversity that I will personally face in my ultramarathon journey on November 7th.

World Vision JWG (Jerusalem/Westbank/Gaza) is working in a holistic multi-sectorial approach that focuses first on the child by enhancing their capacity and life skills and helping them protecting themselves, second on her/his immediate environment by working directly with families, schools and communities, and third, by enhancing the system and structure to serve and protect children. Funds raised will go towards:

- Facilitating sessions that help respond to the needs of mothers and their children
- Establishing child friendly environments to promote early childhood development in clinics, and provide safe play areas with protection measurements
- Conducting individual home visits for mothers who can't access clinics to support their learning and adoption of key practices
- Providing sessions on inclusive education for parents and teachers in areas where students with disabilities are not well integrated in classrooms
- Empowering community members to advocate for improved systems and structures. Conduct PSS extracurricular related activities at school
