CANA MEMBERS BENEFIT FROM BEING PART OF A STRONGER CLIMATE MOVEMENT.

CANA enables our diverse climate movement to align strategy, build capacity, and connect.

The climate movement benefits from working together. Yet individual organisations are necessarily focused on their own priorities. CANA exists to solve this problem, taking a ‘whole of movement perspective’ helping our movement to function as more than the sum of its parts.

“

“CANA has brought groups together, providing much-needed capacity to help us do our work better individually and collectively.”

Charlie Wood
Campaigns Director

STRATEGIC ALIGNMENT.

The climate movement is strongest when different approaches combine towards the same goals. CANA facilitates members to align their strategies and maximises impact by pulling together in the same direction – for example, the network-wide “Repower” campaign for 100% renewable energy.

GREATER CAPACITY.

We can learn faster and avoid repeating mistakes, when we learn from one another. As a member, you can share experiences and skills through online conversation and regular events.

STRONGER CONNECTIONS.

CANA members form relationships that underpin better communication and collaboration. Joining allows you to build and create relationships with partners and allies who will be important in your work.

ABOUT CANA

CANA is a network of around eighty organisations with a stake in a just response to the climate crisis. CANA members are NGOs, unions, faith groups, community action groups, think tanks, and more. The network is supported by CANA's staff who assist with organising the network and facilitating the shared work of members.

“

“CANA enables us to share skills, knowledge and experience. As members, we can work more effectively at targeting the big issues. The whole is greater than the sum of its parts, and CANA enables us to create this unified whole.”

Organising Director
