"Indeed, Allah loves those who fight in His cause in a row as though they are a single structure joined firmly."

إِنَّ اللَّهَ يُحِبُّ الَّذِينَ يُقَاتِلُونَ فِي سَبِيلِهِ صَفًّا كَأَنَّهُمْ بُتَيَانٌ مُرْتَضُونَ
- Quran 61:4

Dear Elizabeth,

In the midst of our troubling national context, CLUE continues to work for structural justice. Last week, we paused from our indefatigable commitment to economic justice to recognize the powerful work of Orange County leaders - the Architects of Justice who work for structural change. This week, we found ourselves successfully responding to an imminent deportation order (a stay for the order of removal was achieved). Now, we are preparing for multiple trainings in Sacred Resistance and Sanctuary throughout Los Angeles, Orange County, and Long Beach, including this Raid Rapid Response Training on Friday. Meanwhile, we want LA residents to vote YES on H and NO on S on Tuesday, to support homeless people and to assure our ability to build affordable housing in Los Angeles. We are building the structures for justice, and none of it would be possible without your support and involvement.

Angels are Everywhere: LA's Homeless Army

Pastor Eddie Anderson

(With a strong argument for supporting Measure H)

"Los Angeles is filled with angels, but we often call them homeless, unemployed, underemployed, and the working poor," says Pastor Eddie Anderson. "Their wings have been clipped." CLUE agrees. We know that God meaningfully leans toward those who lack access to resources, and we know that God's intention is for their empowerment-- their liftoff. That's why we support a YES vote on Measure H, a measure that will leverage a small sales tax increase for big change.

A Wildly Successful CLUE Gala in Orange County

Architects of Justice 2017

On Wednesday night, 200 of Orange County's most progressive clergy gathered to celebrate the victories of 2016, as well as four indomitable spirits who led the charge to achieve them. Jennifer Muir Beuthin, Fr. Arturo Querijero Ferreras, and Beth Krom were named Architects of Justice, and Santa Ana city councilman David Benavides was honored as a champion of that city's landmark Sanctuary Ordinance.

CLUE Stands Against Measure S

As people of faith, we are convinced that every human being should have the opportunity to thrive. Measure S severs those opportunities, halting union construction work as well as affordable and homeless housing projects. Visit GoesTooFar.com and Facebook.com/SayNoToMeasureS to learn more!
