Please join us for a ONE-DAY CONFERENCE exploring the importance of domestic violence prevention education in the areas of healthcare and early childhood services.

Domestic violence impacts far too many of the individuals and families we serve. Emotional, technological, sexual, and physical abuse have an impact on how our clients experience the world around them, on their health, and on their ability to parent. Healthcare and early childhood professionals are in a unique position to conduct a brief domestic violence screen with the individuals they serve. But rather than wait for a positive disclosure, screening individuals for domestic violence can be an opportunity for prevention and awareness every time.

This event will feature PLENARY SESSIONS and MULTIPLE WORKSHOP OPTIONS. Scheduled keynote speakers include:

DR. RAHIL D. BRIGGS, PSY.D., National Director Healthy Steps, a Program of ZERO TO THREE

DR. YOLANDA C. HAYWOOD, M.D., Senior Associate Dean, Diversity & Inclusion, The George Washington University School of Medicine and Health Sciences

CONFERENCE GOALS:

- Understand the prevalence of domestic violence, impacts to individuals and families, and what services are available in the state to assist victims
- Feel comfortable screening individuals for domestic violence and using every screening as an opportunity to share prevention education
- Learn best practices for screening individuals for domestic violence
- Establish partnerships with key organizations and agencies who can support efforts to screen individuals for domestic violence
