

The Roosevelt H.S. Security Camera Footage clearly shows that Officer Tapp did not stumble and bump into A1/Student [REDACTED]. The “body check” force used by Officer Tapp against Student [REDACTED] appeared to be intentional. In addition, Officer Tapp transcribed that he explained to Student [REDACTED]’s family member that the contact he made with Student [REDACTED] was accidental. Once again, the Security Camera Footage shows Officer Tapp’s actions to be deliberate.

Discrepancies between Roosevelt H.S. Security Camera Footage and CAPRS Report

10-109153 supplement 2

Officer Tapp continued to misrepresent his actual actions against Student [REDACTED] and the actions of Student [REDACTED] in CAPRS Report 10-109153 supplement 2, which he submitted on April 21, 2010 at approximately 12:18 hours. Officer Tapp transcribed that while escorting Student [REDACTED] to her Dean’s Office; Student [REDACTED] continued to speak in a foul language, cursing at her co-combatant and was disrespectful to Roosevelt H.S. Staff and himself.

Based on the footage from the Roosevelt H.S. Security Camera, Student [REDACTED] does not appear to be cursing at her co-combatant, who is walking at a significant distance in front of Student [REDACTED]. Student [REDACTED] does not appear to be acting in a disrespectful manner towards the Roosevelt H.S. Staff or Officer Tapp at the incident time in question.

Contradiction between CAPRS Report 10-109153 supplements 1 and 2

In CAPRS Report 10-109153 supplement 2, Officer Tapp contradicts supplement 1 in describing the cause of his contact with Student [REDACTED]. Officer Tapp's first explanation for the cause of contact against Student [REDACTED] was a "stumble." Officer Tapp transcribed in Supplement 1 that he "stumbled," and the stumble was the cause of his contact with Student [REDACTED].

Officer Tapp's second explanation for the cause of contact against Student [REDACTED] was a "comment" made by Student [REDACTED]. Officer Tapp transcribed in supplement 2 that Student [REDACTED] made a comment stating that Officer Tapp was "a coward and had no courage without his fucking gun." Officer Tapp transcribed that the remark offended him and he then approached Student [REDACTED] and "bumped" his right hip into her left hip in order to prevent further offensive language.

The Roosevelt H.S. Security Camera Footage does not appear to support either argument from Officer Tapp nor does the statement of Roosevelt H.S. Hall Monitor Walter Smith, which will later follow.

It is apparent from the Roosevelt H.S. Security Camera Footage that Officer Tapp continued his misrepresentation of his actual actions against Student [REDACTED] in CAPRS Report 10-109153 supplement 2. Officer Tapp transcribed that after he “bumped” into Student [REDACTED], he “immediately” checked to see if Student [REDACTED] was OK as his intent was not to “bounce” Student [REDACTED] off the wall.

The Roosevelt H.S. Security Camera Footage clearly shows that Officer Tapp did not immediately check to see if Student [REDACTED] was injured or ask Student [REDACTED] if she needed medical attention. The Roosevelt H.S. Security Camera Footage clearly shows that Officer Tapp continued walking forward through the corridor and did not look back at Student [REDACTED] displaying what appeared to be disregard for Student [REDACTED]'s well being.

Supervisor's Force Review Regarding CAPRS Report 10-109153

Sergeant Donna Olson entered her original Supervisor's Force Review on April 21, 2010 at approximately 17:39 hours. The information that Sergeant Olson submitted explained Sergeant Olson's actions after she first learned about the incident involving Officer Tapp, rather than the information required in a Supervisor's force Review, which would include the type of force used, information regarding the subject the force was used on and whether the force appeared reasonable or not. IAU Commander, LT Glampe, informed Sergeant Olson that the information she submitted in her Supervisor's Force Review would be more appropriate in a memo to the IAU Office.

Sergeant Donna Olson entered her updated Supervisor's Force Review on April 22, 2010 at approximately 14:27 hours. The information that Sergeant Olson submitted contained the necessary information required for a Supervisor's Force Review. Sergeant Olson transcribed in her review that with the information provided to her by Officer Tapp over the phone, the force used by Officer Tapp against Student [REDACTED] was not appropriate.

Sergeant Donna Olson's Memo to IAU

Following the advice of IAU Commander LT Travis Glampe, Sergeant Donna Olson submitted a memo to the Internal Affairs Office regarding the Roosevelt H.S. incident involving School Resource Officer Patrick Tapp and Roosevelt H.S. Student [REDACTED].

Sergeant Olson transcribed that she received a cell phone call from Officer Tapp on April 21, 2010 at 11:54 hours pertaining to an incident that occurred on April 20, 2010, regarding Officer Tapp's "hip check" against a student.
