Do You

- Want to upgrade your skills for your current job?
- Need training to apply for other community social services jobs?
- Need English as a Second or Additional Language skills?
- Need to upgrade a diploma or certificate from another country?
- Want to advance your career?

Have You

- Been laid-off, bumped or had your work hours significantly reduced?
- Lost work due to contracting out or contract retendering?

HOW TO APPLY

For more information about the criteria for consideration and to download application forms:

www.bcgeu.ca/union_education

Or contact James Cavalluzzo, fund administrator, at 1-800-663-1674 or laef@bcgeu.ca

Union members covered by either the Community Living Services, General Services or Aboriginal Services collective agreements can apply for support from the Labour Adjustment and Education Fund.

The BC Government and Service Employees' Union (BCGEU) administers the fund on behalf of unions in the Community Social Services Bargaining Association (CSSBA).

Applicants must be employed by a member agency of the Community Social Services Employers' Association (CSSEA)

bcgeu Community Social Services

BC's Community Social Services Workers

Cssea Community Social Services Employers' Association of BC

JOINT COMMUNITY SOCIAL SERVICES

LABOUR ADJUSTMENT AND EDUCATION FUND

FOR COMMUNITY SOCIAL SERVICES WORKERS

APPLY TODAY!

BC's Community Social Services Workers

Your union has negotiated the Labour Adjustment and Education Fund to support skills upgrading, training and professional development within the community social services sector.

DEVELOPING WORKERS' SKILLS BUILDING STRONG COMMUNITIES

Training suport of up to $5,000 is available to individual workers for tuition, textbooks and other approved expenses.

You can apply at any time and receive an answer within 30 days. You can be reimbursed for courses you have already completed or started or courses you are interested in taking.

Relevant part and full time courses offered at public institutions in B.C. are eligible. In some circumstances, online courses, those offered at private instituions and those outside of B.C. may be considered.

The Labour Adjustment and Education fund supports courses relevant to community-based social services.

There are many different and interesting jobs in community social services.

Examples of courses and programs already accepted:

Early Childhood Educator

Child and Youth Care Worker

Computer Skills and Software

Office Administration and Bookkeeping

Building Maintenance Worker

Activity Worker

Community Support Worker

And many, many more!

Apply now!

UNIFOR moveup