

I enthusiastically support Anya Leonhard's candidacy for the DAG Executive Committee Press Coordinator position. Anya acquired a great deal of valuable media experience with local German press as interview partner in 2020. As a Bernie Sanders Delegate at the Democratic National Convention in August she was a very sought-after interview partner for German radio and podcast broadcasts and continued to be a very requested participant for television panel discussions and for interviews in various German media throughout the 2020 election period and to date.

Beyond a doubt, Anya is the most qualified person to run for the Press Coordinator position. As a dual citizen of the USA and Germany, she is fluent in both languages and has done an outstanding job of representing Democrats Abroad in both English and German.

Based on my positive working experience with Anya the past months, both as a very qualified and professional Democrats Abroad surrogate and as an energetic DAG Press volunteer, I believe that Anya is very qualified to be the DAG Press Coordinator. I ask you to join me in support of her DAG candidacy.
