

In order to carve out and forge a new chapter, real leadership is required to harness motivation, good intention, and desire to help build something out of nothing. Kaitlyn Kennedy, time and time again, has proven herself to be the capable, reliable, and dedicated anchor that grounds us all together. She exemplifies the characteristics of an ideal leader: communicative, helpful, and willing to listen and advocate for others.

She demonstrates a strong desire to learn, work with others, and build towards a stronger sense of teamwork and camaraderie.

It is in this spirit that she demonstrates her ability to connect with voters from across the Democratic spectrum. No wonder it wasn't until Kaitlyn decided to create a Saxony Chapter that such an endeavor successfully took off and not only survived but thrived—increasing the voter turnout and engagement in the region of Saxony.

As the Chair of the Saxony Chapter of Democrats Abroad Germany, Kaitlyn shows a remarkable desire to improve not only the political engagement of her constituents, but to ease their troubles during the pandemic. For example, she has hosted numerous meetings, info-dissemination sessions, and get-togethers for isolated and distant DA members suffering from loneliness throughout her region.

As Comms Coordinator, she would apply her organizational power, communicative finesse, and concern for U.S. voters abroad at the technical level. It is these talents that she'll bring to bear in this role and why I, without reservation, support her candidacy.
