Dear Friends of Earth Quaker Action Team,

The last 18 months have been an exciting time of connection and escalation for EQAT. As we acknowledge the people who made our work possible in 2013, we can’t help but give you a glimpse of how that work is continuing. We have expanded our connections with the broader climate-change movement, strengthened our ties with Appalachian activists, honored our elders, and supported youth leaders. We have escalated the number of same-day actions, the number of participants, our geographic range, as well as the degree of sacrifice we are willing to undertake as we keep pushing PNC to end its financing of mountaintop removal coal mining. Some highlights from these months include:

2013

February: EQAT coordinated 6 buses—almost 300 people—from Philadelphia to Washington, D.C. for the Forward on Climate Rally.

March-April: During a 40 day period, more than 50 people from around the country joined EQAT for one or more days of fasting, in solidarity with Appalachians resisting mountaintop removal coal mining, and in preparation for our action at the PNC shareholder meeting.

April: PNC Shareholder Meeting in Pittsburgh: EQAT members asked each board member to end his/her support for mountaintop removal coal mining. Instead of standing up for human health and environmental protection, PNC executives rushed through their agenda and ended the meeting in less than 20 minutes to avoid answering our questions.

June: EQAT went international! British Quakers surprised PNC board member Jane Pepper while she was in England to lead a garden tour. They gave her chocolates, a book on gardening and a request that she use her influence to get PNC to stop financing mountaintop removal coal mining.

July: To deepen our understanding of the realities lived by those living in mountaintop removal areas, EQAT staff and members visited our allies in Appalachia.

August: EQAT led the first of 6 nonviolent direct action trainings for our Keystone XL Pipeline Action. This was a chance for EQAT to add our strength to the national fight to stop the Tar Sands Pipeline, while building relationships with new people in Philadelphia.

October: Over 5,000 students from around the country converged on Pittsburgh for “Power Shift.” EQAT led nonviolent direct action trainings and the biggest bank branch action in U.S. history. We stopped “business as usual” at 16 different PNC branches. At one branch, the bank had seven of EQAT’s truth tellers arrested. The story was picked up by over 70 news outlets.

January: We celebrated and honored 5 EQAT elders, who modeled long-term activism and integrity.

March: Sweeping Out Corruption Keystone XL Pipeline Action: After a request from the national movement against KXL, EQAT led an action with our allies at the Philadelphia Federal Building. Close to 200 people participated. Twenty-nine were arrested for civil disobedience and more courageous people were prepared to do so.

April: PNC moved their shareholder meeting from Pittsburgh, PA to Tampa, FL, where there happened to be young Friends already excited about working with EQAT. The result was an intergenerational training collaboration at Southeastern Yearly Meeting’s annual sessions and a powerful action at the shareholder meeting that included 22 Floridians from 7 monthly meetings. PNC executives rushed through their agenda even faster than the previous year.

July: Over 200 people from across the United States came to PNC’s corporate headquarters in Pittsburgh, five busloads of them from the Friends General Conference Gathering in nearby California, PA. This worshipful action featured youth leaders, participants from ages 5 to 85—many of whom were taking their first nonviolent direct action—and several Friends who left ready to bring EQAT’s campaign back to their home communities.

Thank you for your support in 2013. Your financial contribution enables us to put our attention on developing effective and strategic actions to end mountaintop removal coal mining, a major contributor to climate change. We deeply appreciate gifts of all sizes. If you have not made a contribution yet in 2014, now is a good time to do so, as we gear up for our largest day of action yet on December 6. You should expect to hear about 20 or more actions from Indiana to New York to Florida!

With joy and gratitude,

Eileen

*2013 included building administrative infrastructure. We shifted paid staff from consultants to employees, which added taxes and worker’s compensation to salary costs. We worked with an accountant to begin using software that enables us to operate within a more complicated financial picture.

In 2013, no arrestees went to trial and we received legal counsel at a significantly reduced rate.

GIVING STORIES

Ryan Leitner

I donate to Earth Quaker Action Team because I know that it is the best investment I can make in a sustainable future for me and future generations. I know that we will not solve our climate crisis without faith communities, and EQAT is an incredible example of how faith can help us all be brave as we fight for a just and sustainable world. Donating to EQAT is an important way for me to support the work that brings me hope.

---

Lee Junker

I give to EQAT with gratitude. Not only because EQAT is trying to end an egregious practice that destroys our environment and harms people and other living creatures, but because I have confidence in the people who are committed to this initiative. They bring integrity, passion, commitment and careful discernment to all their actions. In a very deep sense, I believe they are witnessing God’s love at work in the world.
