

Exploring the Archaeology of Yorkshire Landscapes:

conference inspired by Tony Pacitto (1931- 2003) – archaeologist, photographer, air photographer, excavator, geophysicist & metal detectorist

Saturday 6 April 2019
10 am – 4.30 pm

VENUE: Byron & Austen Blake Rooms, Canham Turner Building, University of Hull, Cottingham Road, HULL, HU6 7RX (Postcode for Inglemire Lane entrance and carparks HU6 8JG). The building has disabled parking and access with lift to the first floor rooms.

Conference organised by the Prehistory Research Section of the Yorkshire Archaeological and Historical Society, in association with the University of Hull and East Riding Archaeological Society, ERAS.

Papers will focus on landscapes within the East Riding of Yorkshire and parts of North Yorkshire, reviewing techniques for revealing archaeological sites from prehistory through to the medieval period. There will be some new insights into Iron Age chariot burials and the later prehistoric settlement of the Wolds.

PROGRAMME

Exploring the Archaeology of Yorkshire Landscapes

Saturday 6 April 2019

From 10 am Registration. Tea/ coffee. Bookstall & Exhibitions.

10.30 am Welcome – Yvonne Boutwood, Chair, Prehistory Research Section, YAHS

Morning Session – chaired by John Dent

Dr Ian Stead

'The incomparable Tony Pacitto'

Matthew Oakey, Historic England

'Wet film to lasers: applications of airborne remote sensing'

James Lyall, Director of Geophysiz.biz

'Looking back over 25 years of geophysical surveying in East and North Yorkshire'

Peter Halkon, Senior Lecturer in Archaeology, University of Hull

'Exploring the later prehistoric landscape of the Yorkshire Wolds - new sites and insights'

1 - 2pm LUNCH plus Bookstall & Exhibitions

Afternoon Session – chaired by Peter Halkon

Paula Ware, Director MAP Archaeological Practice

'Advancing our Understanding of Chariot Burials in the East Riding'

Marcus Jecock, Historic England

'The Hanging Grimston Community Archaeology Project'

TEABREAK

Tony Hunt, Yorkshire Archaeological Aerial Mapping

'The utilisation of drones in an archaeological context'

Closing Remarks – Terry Manby

4.30 pm Conference Ends

